American Studies Graduate Program
Brown Bag Series

Next Week!
Monday, April 20, 11:30 a.m.—12:30 p.m.
Sassafras Room, IMU

“RECRUIT! FORMING COMMITTEES; AND,
WRITING THE PROSPECTUS”
A brown-bag discussion of how to pick an examination or dissertation committee, how to approach faculty to ask them to serve, and how to approach the dissertation prospectus.

PRESENTERS: DEBBIE COHN and PAUL ANDERSON

What’s for lunch?

UPCOMING IN THE SERIES

Monday, May 18, 11:30a—12:30p, Ballantine Hall 004
“How I Spent My Summer (or Should Have): Looking Ahead”
A brown-bag discussion of summer opportunities, responsibilities, and tasks for AMST graduate students, including thinking about the timing of exams, preparation of fall syllabi, and preliminary dissertation exploration.

PRESENTERS: LESSIE JO FRAZIER and NICOL SEIGEL

All brown bags are open to all American Studies graduate students including standalone Ph.D.s, Ph.D. minors, and combined Ph.D.s... and friends.