MORE THAN “RADICALS” OR “JUNKIES”:
Black and Latino Drug Addicts and the Pursuit of Psycho-Political Liberation

Friday, January 27th, 10:00 a.m.  Sassafras Room, IMU

Dr. Sonia Lee

SONIA LEE, Associate Professor, Washington University, St. Louis

Her publications include Building a Latino Civil Rights Movement: Puerto Ricans, African Americans and the Pursuit of Racial Justice in New York City (University of North Carolina Press, 2014). Her research interests include constructions of race and ethnicity, social movements, mental health, and drug addiction.

Cohosted By: Latino Studies Program and the Department of American Studies