WonderLab agrees to collaborate with the Undergraduate Internship Course, ABEH-A495, offered by the Center for the Integrative Study of Animal Behaviors, Indiana University Bloomington. As a partner in this learning experience, WonderLab gives permission for undergraduate students to make behavioral observations of animals on display in our facility. At least two weeks before beginning their observations, the students will request approval for their particular study from the current Animal Exhibits Manager at the contact address below, and if approved, they will meet with the Animal Exhibits Manager and CISAB director to discuss the internship and elements of the study.
