

Indiana University Bloomington

SOLVING THE MYSTERY OF YANKEETOWN

Field School in Archaeology

Professor Susan M. Alt P 405 6 CREDITS

DIRECTIONS. This form can be completed and submitted in person to Meghan Buchanan in SB 054 (lab) by April 5, 2009 or Applicants may also send completed electronic versions to susalt@indiana.edu.

Name _____

Street Address _____

Spring Semester Phone E-mail _____

Academic Status (circle): freshman sophomore junior senior grad. Other _____

Major/Overall Grade Point Average _____

If below 3.0, please explain why _____

Relevant Archaeology Courses Taken / Background _____

Why take field school? _____

Extent of your past outdoor work experience _____

List abilities/qualities you can offer the Project _____

VERY IMPORTANT: YOU MUST BE COVERED BY HEALTH INSURANCE PRIOR TO LEAVING FOR THE FIELD.

What health insurance will cover you in the summer? _____

Identify any special considerations regarding your health, allergic conditions, and ability to engage in strenuous outdoor activity _____

Your signature here acknowledges your understanding that you will be an active participant in a special field course connected to a research project with goals above and beyond an ordinary on-campus college course. Field work is strenuous, days are long (> 8 hours), and you are sometimes required to work under extreme weather conditions. Transportation to and from field sites is the responsibility of the student (carpooling is normal), as is the costs of all meals (to be shared communally with other students and crew).

Signature: _____

*Please note that Students will be responsible for their own food and for purchasing personal excavation supplies totaling between 50 and 75 dollars to be used in the field. A single non-refundable housing fee of $300.00 will required by May 15, 2009. Additional information will be distributed following acceptance into the field school during pre-field meetings.