

Interested in knowing about IU faculty research in Latin America???

Join other CLACS students, faculty and friends at the Latin American Research Forum, an inter-disciplinary lecture series led by many recognized IU professors.

Sept. 21	"Subalterns and State Formation in 19th Century Latin America"	Dr. Peter Guardino (History)
Sept. 28	"Between the Forest and the Trees: Reflections on the El Salvadoran Left, 1930-1980"	Dr. Jeffrey Gould (History) [This talk begins at 2 p.m.]
Oct. 5	"Guatemalan Women's Use of the Inter-American System for Human Rights"	Dr. Christiana Ochoa (Law) [This talk begins at 2:15 p.m.]
Oct. 12	"Entering the 'Border Abyss': Identity, Policing and Resistance at the U.S.-Mexico Line" A conversation on the intersection of Latino Studies and Latin American Studies	Dr. Cynthia Bejarano (New Mexico State University) Dr. John Nieto-Phillips (History/Latino Studies)
Oct. 19	"Small Farmers and Development in the Brazilian Amazon"	Dr. Eduardo Brondizio (Anthropology)
Oct. 26	"Doing Research on Indigenous Latin American Languages and Language Communities"	Dr. Daniel Suslak (Anthropology)
Nov. 2	"Cultural Rights, Neoliberalism, and the Use of Afro-Peruvian Music as an Economic Resource"	Dr. Javier Leon (Folklore and Ethnomusicology)
Nov. 9	"Re-Imagining the Past: History in the Postmodern Caribbean and Latin American Novel"	Dr. Vivian Nun Halloran (Comparative Literature/American Studies)
Nov. 16	"Pragmatic Variation Across Spanishes in Latin America"	Dr. Cesar Felix-Brasdefer (Spanish and Portuguese)
Nov. 23	"Gender Ideologies and Military Discipline in a Chilean Cold War Prison Camp, 1948 and 1973"	Dr. Lessie Jo Frazier (Gender Studies)
Dec. 7	"Imagining Brazil from Colonial Times to the Present"	Dr. Darlene Sadlier (Spanish and Portuguese)

Lectures will occur on Mondays from 1:00-2:15 pm in Ballantine 011

(Unless otherwise noted)

We look forward to your support and continued engagement with Latin America!!!

Sponsored by the IU Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies

<http://www.indiana.edu/~clacs/>