The Department of Criminal Justice at Indiana University-Bloomington invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position. Although the rank is open, the department seeks candidates with a Ph.D. who are established scholars in the field of criminal justice, broadly conceived so as to encompass the range of disciplines that focus on criminological theory, policing, the courts, and corrections. In addition to an outstanding publication record and significant grant work, candidates must have demonstrated histories of effective work with both graduate and undergraduate students.

Interested candidates should review the application requirements and submit their application at: https://indiana.peopleadmin.com. A completed application will include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, a statement on research and teaching, scholarly writing samples, and three letters of reference. Appointment to a tenured position will require qualified candidates to produce an additional three letters of reference beyond those in the initial application. Review of applications will begin October 20th and continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is August 1, 2016.

Questions regarding the position or application process can be directed to: Dr. Richard Lippke, Chair, Department of Criminal Justice, 1033 E 3rd St., 302 Sycamore Hall, Indiana University, Bloomington, IN 47405-7005; rllippke@indiana.edu. For more information about the Department, please see its website: http://www.indiana.edu/~crimjust/

Indiana University is an Equal Employment and Affirmative Action Employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.