Dr. Andrew Goss is Associate Professor and Chair of History at the University of New Orleans, where he teaches Asian history, including specialty courses about modern Chinese and Japanese history. He is the author of The Floracrats: State-Sponsored Science and the Failure of the Enlightenment in Indonesia (University of Wisconsin Press, 2011) and is currently working on a project about the quinine as the first global pharmaceutical drug. He has been teaching NCTA Teaching about Asia Seminars in the New Orleans region since 2008.