

Department of Germanic Studies

Recommended Tutor List

Spring 2010

Christiane Kaden ckaden@indiana.edu	812-369-8140	Tutoring all levels from beginning to advanced. Conversation practice and grammar are particular interests. Native speaker of German, currently teaching G250. Previous tutoring experience.
Orsolya Kiss okiss@indiana.edu	-----	Teaching experience: Currently teaching G400, have taught at IU for the past 4 years (G100-G330, G492); taught in IU's Graz Study Abroad program, tutored German privately. B.A. in German/International Political Economy; study abroad programs in Koeln. Ph.D. Candidate.
Andrew Kostakis akostaki@indiana.edu	-----	Tutoring for G100, G150, and G200. Ph.D. candidate in Linguistics. Taught G100, G150, & G200 multiple times, also taught German grammar for the Honors program's total immersion program in Krefeld, Germany. B.A. in German Literature (Binghamton University, with coursework completed at the Universität Leipzig) and an M.A. in Germanic Studies (IU).
Anita Lukic alukic@indiana.edu	773-816-3058	Tutoring for beginning levels. Conversation practice and translation work are also welcome. Currently teaching G150, grew up in Germany – native fluency. Ph.D. candidate in Germanic Studies.
Sonja Rother srother@indiana.edu	812-606-4162	Tutoring for G100-G250. Translations from English into German (native speaker of German, MA in Translation Studies). Taught two years in the Germanic Studies department (all levels from G100 to G250); experience in tutoring and conversation practice.
Fredericka Schmadel schmadel@indiana.edu	-----	Tutoring all levels, all areas. Specialty is explaining weird grammar. 11 years teaching German full time, 7 at the University of Southern Indiana. Fulbright Scholar in Munich. ABD in Germanic languages and literatures, Washington U., St. Louis. Can tutor native speakers of Spanish who are studying German.
John Scott scottjh@indiana.edu	320-7838	Tutoring for beginning-intermediate levels (G100-G250) as well as conversation practice. Experience includes volunteer linguistics tutoring, elementary school presentations, experience in University Computer-aided Language Learning Center. Background includes a B.A. in German Language & Literature, B.A. in Linguistics, 1 year of university study in Freiburg, current M.A. student. 3 year as A.I. and on tutor list.