THE MANY FACES OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Global Issues Community Discussion Series

Illegal trafficking in humans is the second most profitable international trade, coming in above illegal drugs, and it isn’t just a problem that happens “over there.” It’s documented in Midwestern cities, and is a possibility right here in Indiana. Learn about the history of global human trafficking, U.S. and local Indiana legislation, and what communities can do.

Speakers:
STEPANKA KORYTOVA
Global migration specialist, activist, and Visiting Scholar at the Center for the Study of Global Change, Indiana University, Bloomington, IN

JULIE MCGINNIS, J.D.
Legal Advocate for Middle Way House, Bloomington, IN

Thursday, December 9
7 p.m.
Monroe County Public Library
Program Room 2B
Second Floor

The Global Issues Community Discussion Series is presented through a partnership between the IU Center for the Study of Global Change and Monroe County Public Library.