Mary Embry
Professor
Department of Apparel Merchandising & Interior Design
Indiana University, Bloomington
Email: mcembry@indiana.edu
Phone: (812) 855-5223

Course: AMID R404 International Textile and Apparel Trade
R404 has implemented mechanisms to move from a western view of textile and apparel globalization, to a course that presents tools and opportunities for students to explore, consider, and discuss multiple international points of view based on the concerns of governments, workers, consumers, and citizens. Through ICAB these changes have been systematically created, strengthening the value of assessments by defining learning outcomes that are clearly linked to internationalized course content.

Bio
Mary Embry instructs courses in international trade in textiles and apparel, fashion branding, and sustainability. Her professional interests include fair trade retailing and service learning.