The Center for the Study of Global Change, India Studies, and Center for Language Technology and Instructional Enrichment (CeLTIE) are sponsoring a language pedagogy and instructional technologies workshop for Less Commonly Taught Language instructors on August 18-20. The first two days will emphasize language pedagogies and the last day will focus on instructional technologies. Dr. Kelly Sax, a specialist in foreign language pedagogy, applied linguistics, and sociolinguistics will be leading the first two days of the workshop and CeLTIE will coordinate the last day.

This is a free workshop and is open to all interested individuals, though space is limited. It will be a superb introduction to language instruction methodologies and pedagogical issues, or a refresher and review of various teaching methodologies and resources for language instructors.

Monday and Tuesday, August 18 and 19 - Language pedagogies (Location: The Global Center)

Theoretical background, examples, and practical applications of language pedagogies will be covered during the first two days of the workshop. Instructors will develop materials, receive handouts, and teach sample lessons to each other. The following topics demonstrate the breadth of the workshop content.
