RAISING AWARENESS OF INTERACTIONS IN SEXUAL ENCOUNTERS

Spring 2015
Membership Application

A co-ed group, RAISE works to educate and train IU students to be knowledgeable resources regarding safety in sexual interactions as well as spread a message of consent and healthy sexual communication. Our primary means through which we achieve these goals include presentation and discussion based meetings, on-campus condom distributions, member-led “He Said...She Said” presentations, film screenings, Take Back the Night, SlutWalk, and various other yearly activities. Members of RAISE are well equipped to inform peers about campus resources regarding sexual health and well-being as well as discuss rape culture in an informed way. As a part of IU for the past 20 years, RAISE hopes to remain an effective and integral part of the university as it attempts to educate and advocate on behalf of sexual assault victims.

The organizational structure of RAISE is illustrated below. RAISE is headed by either one President, or two Co-Presidents who oversee all aspects of the organization. Next, four Vice Presidents and a Secretary each cover specific areas of the organization’s involvement and together with the president or co-presidents are considered the leadership team. Under each Vice President, are committees made up of dedicated RAISE members. Each committee has a chair which reports back to the vice president after each committee meeting.
