Focus/Summary

Students will become historians and use their literary analysis skills to uncover the voices of the labor movement, the civil rights movement, and the women’s liberation movement. Using songs as poetry will allow students to understand the development of these social movements by critically engaging them in discussion around the motives, themes, and ideologies of the participants in each movement.

Vital Theme and Narrative

Patterns of Social and Political Interaction

Habits of Mind

- perceive past events and issues as they were experienced by people at the time, to develop historical empathy as opposed to present-mindedness
- acquire at on and the same time a comprehension of diverse cultures and of shared humanity

Guiding Questions

What is the role of music in changing people’s ideas?
How does music reflect the ideals and values of a society?
What is the language of music used in social movements?

Objectives

Students will be able to analyze historical data through exercises in visual and information literacy.
Students will discuss the conflicts that have led to social movements.
Students will develop an increased understanding of human behavior and social issues related to historical time periods.
Students will identify recurring themes in the lyrics of music of various social movements.
Students will analyze the poetic language of music of change.

Illinois State Learning Standards

STATE GOAL 2: Read and understand literature representative of various societies, eras and ideas.
A. Understand how literary elements and techniques are used to convey meaning.
2.A.3a Identify and analyze a variety of literary techniques (e.g., figurative language, allusion, dialogue, description, word choice, dialect) within classical and contemporary works representing a variety of genres.
2.A.3d Identify ways that an author uses language structure, word choice and style to convey the author’s viewpoint.
B. Read and interpret a variety of literary works.
2.B.3a Respond to literary material from personal, creative and critical points of view.
2.B.3b Compare and contrast common literary themes across various societies and eras.

STATE GOAL 3: Write to communicate for a variety of purposes.
B. Compose well-organized and coherent writing for specific purposes and audiences.
3.B.3a Produce documents that convey a clear understanding and interpretation of ideas and information and display focus, organization, elaboration and coherence.
C. Communicate ideas in writing to accomplish a variety of purposes.
3.C.3a Compose narrative, informative, and persuasive writings (e.g., in addition to previous writings, literature reviews, instructions, news articles, correspondence) for a specified audience.
3.C.3b Using available technology, produce compositions and multimedia works for specified audiences.

STATE GOAL 5: Use the language arts to acquire, assess and communicate information.
B. Analyze and evaluate information acquired from various sources.
5.B.3a Choose and analyze information sources for individual, academic and functional purposes.
5.B.3b Identify, evaluate and cite primary sources.
C. Apply acquired information, concepts and ideas to communicate in a variety of formats.
5.C.3a Plan, compose, edit and revise documents that synthesize new meaning gleaned from multiple sources.
5.C.3c Take notes, conduct interviews, organize and report information in oral, visual and electronic formats.

STATE GOAL 16: Understand events, trends, individuals and movements shaping the history of Illinois, the United States and other nations.
A. Apply the skills of historical analysis and interpretation.
16.A.3b Make inferences about historical events and eras using historical maps and other historical sources.

STATE GOAL 18: Understand social systems, with an emphasis on the United States.
A. Compare characteristics of culture as reflected in language, literature, the arts, traditions and institutions.
18.A.3 Explain how language, literature, the arts, architecture and traditions contribute to the development and transmission of culture.
THE WOMEN’S LIBERATION MOVEMENT

Procedures

Opening the Lesson—

View and analyze pictures of female suffragists.

As a class, read and discuss TIME magazine article about the call for an equal rights amendment. Identify reasons women may have sought the passing of an equal rights law. Discuss the length and focus of the article.

Divide students into pairs. Assign each pair an article from TIME magazine related to women and the Equal Rights Amendment. Each pair will complete a nonfiction comprehension graphic organizer on their assigned article. Pairs will identify a portion of their article to share with the class. They will record the portion they have selected on large paper. The class will then participate in a silent big paper activity. Students will record their responses to the prompts selected by their peers on large paper in silence. Students can write in direct response to the prompts or can respond to one another and begin a silent dialogue. Students will rotate around the room. Debrief and discuss the Equal Rights Amendment.

Developing the Lesson—

Divide the class into small groups. Assign each group the lyrics of a liberation song to read and discuss. Choose the songs most appropriate for the age range and maturity level of your students.
Concluding the Lesson—

Read and analyze the lyrics of “I Am Woman” by Helen Reddy.

Assessing Student Learning

Students should choose a song of the women’s liberation movement and “add a stanza”. Students will apply their understanding of the song’s content and language to write another stanza that the artist may have included. Students should mimic the structure of the song and should use language in the same way the artist originally did (examples include the use of repetition, alliteration, and similes or metaphors.

Resources

Unit Assessment

Assessment options: Students will choose a song from a social movement and create a PowerPoint presentation of images to match the lyrics. The focus should be on the historical content, and students should ask themselves if significant change has occurred as a result of the movement the song is associated with. Images will be both contemporary and historic. The PowerPoint presentation should include words and phrases directly quoted from the song. —OR— Students will choose a contemporary song about social issues to analyze independently using the criteria and norms established throughout the unit.

Unit Resources

Analyzing the Music of Social Movements

Song Title: _____________________________________________________

Writer(s) & Artist(s): _____________________________________________

Listen to and/or read the lyrics once in their entirety. Note images and or words that stand out to you.
Listen to and/or read the lyrics again. This time, listen to and/or read the song line by line or stanza by stanza.
Carefully, consider the lyrics, the social movement the song was written or recorded in, and the language the writer chose to express his/her message.
Complete three of the following responses. You must create a “tic-tac-toe” line going across, down, or horizontal.

Tic-Tac-Toe Response

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Who was the target audience of this song? What can be learned from the lyrics of this song?</th>
<th>Who would not want this song recorded and listened to? Who is not the target audience? Why would this group/ these groups be opposed to the message(s) in the song?</th>
<th>Carefully consider your understanding of the period in history when this song was written or recorded. Does this song support or contradict your historical understanding? Explain.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Identify the imagery in the song’s lyrics. How has the artist used language to convey a message?</td>
<td>Design an album cover appropriate for this song. What image(s) would you use to capture the message of the song? Why?</td>
<td>Identify the theme of the song. Is this a recurring theme? What other songs, poems, pieces of literature have you seen this theme illustrated in? Explain.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What was the purpose of this recording? Do you think the writer of this song achieved his/her goals?</td>
<td>What was happening at the time this song was written or recorded? What can be learned by listening to this song?</td>
<td>If you had to pitch this song to a music producer to record, what would you say? Summarize the content of the song and identify reasons it should be recorded.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Analyzing the Language of Music of Social Movements

What is the title of the song? What does the title mean?

How would you summarize the song? What words stand out? Is there repetition? How is repetition used in the song?

Is the song meant to be taken literally? What is the underlining meaning of the song?

What is the tone of the song? How has the author used language to convey his/her tone?

Has the author used similes and/or metaphors? Identify and explain.

From whose point of view is the song written? How is this point of view unique?

What has influenced the author of this song? Identify specific concerns, issues, and ideas of the author.