1 IPE Yearbook Editorship

The current editors of the IPE Yearbook series, Chris May and Nicola Phillips, will be ending their term of (exemplary!) service at the end of this year. Chris and Nicola's tenure has resulted in the publication of

- * Guns and Butter: The Political Economy of International Security, edited by Peter Dombrowski (volume 14 in the series)
- * Corporate Global Power, edited by Chris May (volume 15)
- * Crime and the Global Political Economy, edited by H. Richard Friman (volume 16, in press).

Nicola is now editing volume 17, on migration. For further information see: http://www.rienner.com/browse\_books/42

To keep up the momentum, we are seeking a new editor or coeditors to begin planning for volumes 18 and beyond as soon as possible. Prior to submitting a written proposal, interested candidates should contact the publisher, Lynne Rienner (at 303-444-6684), for a preliminary discussion. The involvement of section members is essential to the success of this series, so don't be shy!

2 IPE Section Blog

The IPE section has a new blog. At our annual meeting in NYC we discussed the limitations members felt with our section communication. As a means of addressing this we have created the IPE blog. So what can you do with the blog?

Many section members have wonderful paper ideas but do not know if others are interested in forming a panel. Maybe you have come across this circumstance where you want to write a paper on X and wonder are others writing on X? The blog provides a wonderful opportunity to find out. Simply post your panel idea along with your contact details and those interested in the proposal now have a way to work together to form a panel.

So where do you go and how do you do it? This couldn't be easier. Simply click on or paste the web address into your web browser:

<http://ipesection.wordpress.com/>

Once you are there you will see a category entitled, "2010 Panel Proposals". Click on it and you can type in your proposal(s). Click the "Submit Comment" and then click the box "Notify me of follow-up Comments via email". For those of you who are a little more advanced you will notice RSS feeds on the right. Click on those and you can get RSS feeds directly to your reader.

This is the first time we have created a blog and we hope that it is successful! If there are any unforeseen troubles please contact Hasmet Uluorta at hasmet@workingalternatives.net. (Thanks, Hasmet, for creating this very helpful new tool! - JKR)

Deadline:
June 1

3 Distinguished Senior Scholar Nominations

Every year the IPE section honors a distinguished senior scholar whose research has been influential in the field. This year's selection committee, Bob Denmark (chair) and Renee Marlin-Bennett, welcome your nominations. Please send nominations to marlin@jhu.edu by May 22, 2009. (E-mails need to come to me so that they don't get lost in the pile of Compendium e-mails in Bob's in-box.)

Nominations
due: May 22

4 IPE-Section Information

Website <http://www.indiana.edu/~ipe/ipesection/>

Blog <http://ipesection.wordpress.com/>

We welcome your news (books, publications, scholarship information, awards, conference announcements, etc.) that is of interest to other IPE-section member at any time of the year!

Please forward newsletter submissions to ipe.submissions@gmail.com and we can post it on the news section of the IPE-section website and include it in the newsletter as well.
