PV 167

An introductory overview of labor relations in the public sector. Course includes the development, practice, and extent of the collective bargaining process and administration of the labor agreement by state and local governments.

In addition to the normal curriculum, Honor Students participate in supplemental activities, depending on their travel capabilities and interests. One student participated in an actual collective bargaining session between a school administration and a teachers bargaining team. Other students have reviewed academic papers and reported on them to the class.
