The Honors Residential Community

Would you like to live in an intellectually vibrant environment that emphasizes both learning and the social aspects of campus life?

If so, why not consider the Honors Residential Community? Enjoy the HRC spirit of support and friendship while taking part in outings to various cultural events, parties, dinners, out-of-state trips, as well as group study sessions and the occasional midnight pizza party.

HRC floors are found in residence centers located in the Northwest, Central and Southeast neighborhoods, and there is an annual $100 activity fee.

How to apply for the Honors Residential Community

Please follow Residential Programs and Services' instructions for filling out the online housing application at www.rps.indiana.edu/housingapplications.html. Indicate "Honors" and your preferred neighborhood as assignment preferences. Assignments will be made on a first-come, first-served basis.

*Although Honors freshmen may choose to live anywhere on campus, the Hutton Honors College also highly recommends the following residential options: Collins Living Learning Center, Foster International Living Learning Center, The Global Village, and other Thematic and Academic Communities.

Life in the HRC:

The Honors Residential Community profoundly shaped my college experience. I lived there for three years, and was an RA there the final year. My strongest friendships came from that experience.

I had a great time living in the HRC. I made friends there who really helped ease the transition from high school to college. I also appreciated the activities and trips that were part of the living arrangement.

I lived in an HRC my freshman year and was an RA there the following two years. The leadership experience and fun this provided was amazing. These will certainly be some of my best memories of college.

There's such a community feeling, and a very comfortable atmosphere. We don't seclude ourselves from other floors. In fact, we get lots of visitors who secretly wish they lived on our floor! I definitely recommend living in the HRC.
