FROM THE DIRECTOR

In my first year as Director of the Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Jewish Studies Program (JSP), I have been amazed at the dedication of our professional staff, the commitment of our accomplished alumni and supportive community, the promise and enthusiasm of our talented students, and the distinction of our expert faculty.

I congratulate our graduating seniors, who this year hailed from twelve different states. They are now pursuing careers in fields as diverse as education, political activism, administration, scholarly research, journalism, medicine, social work, and the clergy. Clearly, a Jewish Studies (JS) degree is not only a personally rewarding experience, but also provides training in the type of critical thinking valued by today’s workplace. Our students received numerous university-wide awards, including the Elvis J. Stahr Senior Recognition Award (Emily Berman) and the John W. Ashton Senior Scholarship (Sarah Wilensky). Many of our students were named to the Dean’s List, to Phi Beta Kappa, and as Founder Scholars. Others were awarded scholarships and awards from the JSP itself. Personally, I find learning with our students to be a most rewarding experience.

Our faculty has also had a productive year. Stephen Katz, Judah Cohen, Chaya Halberstam, and Mark Roseman all published books this past year, and both Shaul Magid and I were awarded prizes for books published last year. Our faculty has been awarded competitive grants and fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Humboldt Foundation, and the Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies. Alvin Rosenfeld, former director of the JSP, was named the Irving M. Glazer Chair in JS and established a new Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism. The faculty continues to be committed to the public mission of the university, contributing their knowledge and expertise to the wider community.

Our educational mission remains paramount and our new Associate Director Matthias Lehmann has been working tirelessly to create new educational opportunities for our students. We continue to develop new courses and to find new ways of interesting the next generation of students in the study of Jewish thought and civilization. This past year, the JSP expanded into service learning with our internship and leadership courses. These courses will provide students with the types of hands-on experience that will better prepare them for the professional world and allow them to apply the knowledge and critical thinking they learn in the classroom to “real-world” situations. Through artist-in-residence and visiting scholar programs, we are also bringing pioneering and up-and-coming visitors to campus each semester to share their expertise with students and others in the IU community.

The JSP has increased its activity in promoting study abroad programs and encouraging our students to become global citizens. This past year, Indiana University (IU) had the largest student representation of any university in the world at the Hebrew University’s Rothberg School in Jerusalem (HUJ). This coming year, we will be launching a new “Indiana University in Jerusalem” program that will build upon our existing overseas study program and expand our relationship with our Israeli counterparts. Thanks to our rigorous Hebrew language curriculum, under the directorship of Ayelet Weiss, and our Yiddish language program, under the direction of Dov-Ber Kerler, our students are acquiring the language skills they need to successfully navigate our global world.

Over the last several years, our graduate program has expanded as students pursuing degrees in disciplinary departments across the university have sought to integrate aspects of the Jewish experience into their studies. The newly-formed Jewish Studies Graduate Student Association is but one expression of the growing vitality of our graduate student body. In anticipation of further growth in JS graduate education, we have developed a new JS master’s degree. This new degree will provide a bridge between our highly successful undergraduate major and doctoral minor, and will provide students with the advanced interdisciplinary and language study they will need to become professionals in the world of JS and Jewish affairs.

As the summer draws to a close, I look forward to another year of learning as we welcome a new class of students to Bloomington.

Jeffrey Veidlinger
Director, Rosenfeld Chair in Jewish Studies and Professor of History
Visiting Faculty 2010-2011

Sarah Imhoff
Visiting Scholar

Sarah Imhoff, who recently completed her dissertation, “Making Jewish Gender: Religion, Race, Sexuality, and American Jews, 1910-1924,” at the University of Chicago Divinity School, will teach courses on “Gender in Rabbinic Literature,” “Jews and Race in the U.S.,” “Understanding the Rabbinic Mind,” and “Women in American Jewish History”. A scholar of the history of Judaism, her research broadly considers gender and Judaism. She received dual undergraduate degrees in Religious Studies and Mathematics from Stanford University in 2002 and her M.A. from the University of Chicago Divinity School in 2005. She has held a number of fellowships including the Martin Marty Center Junior Fellowship, the Alma Wilson Teaching Fellowship, and the Center for Gender Studies Residency Fellowship.

Asya Vaisman
Visiting Scholar and Project Director

Asya Vaisman will be a visiting scholar teaching introductory Yiddish and Project Manager for the Archives of Historical and Ethnographic Yiddish Memories (AHEYM). She received her Ph.D. from Harvard University in 2009, with a dissertation entitled “Being Heard: The Yiddish Songs and Singing Practices of Contemporary Hasidic Women.” She was the Hazel D. Cole Postdoctoral Fellow in JS at the University of Washington last year. Asya has composed music to the lyrics of several Yiddish poets and performs with klezmer bands and at klezmer workshops around the world. In summer 2010, she taught intensive Yiddish at IU's Summer Workshop in Slavic, East European, and Central Asian Languages.

Tamar Arieli
Schusterman Visiting Israeli Professor

Tamar Arieli will be the Schusterman Visiting Israeli Professor. Coordinator of the Conflict Management Program, Lecturer at Tel Chai Academic College, and Lecturer in Political Science at Ashkelon Academic College in Israel, she has been a Research Fellow at the Space and Security research group at the Van Leer Institute as well as a Research Fellow in the War and Morality research group at the Schwarz Institute-Beit Morasha, Jerusalem. She received her Ph.D. in Conflict Management and Negotiation at Bar Ilan University in 2009. Dr. Arieli will teach courses on “Israeli Society: Political, Social, and Religious Divides,” “Zionism and the State of Israel,” “The Arab-Israeli Conflict,” and “Contemporary Environmental Challenges in Israel.” We thank the American-Israeli Cooperative Enterprise for making Dr. Arieli’s visiting professorship possible.

Michael Alpert, Klezmer Musician

Paul Artist-in-Residence and Visiting Lecturer

Michael Alpert, a pioneering figure in the renaissance of klezmer music and an internationally known performer, comes to the Borns JSP for the spring 2011 semester as a Visiting Lecturer and Dorit and Gerald Paul Artist-in-Residence. He has performed and recorded with Brave Old World, Kapelye, Khevrisa, David Krakauer, Theodore Bikel, and has won an Emmy and the Rose D’Or as musical director of the PBS Great Performances special “Itzhak Perlman: In the Fiddler’s House”. In addition to teaching a course in Ethnomusicology, he will give a public performance. The Paul artist-in-residence program provides a unique opportunity to learn directly from a major artist.

Matthew Suriano
Visiting Lecturer in Religious Studies

Matthew Suriano, a Visiting Lecturer in the Department of Religious Studies, received his Ph.D. from UCLA in Near Eastern Languages and Cultures in 2008. He has taught at both UCLA and the University of California Santa Barbara. He will teach four courses this year, including “Death and the Afterlife in Ancient Judaism,” “Introduction to Hebrew Bible,” and “Prophecy in Ancient Israel”. Dr. Suriano’s research interests include the history and development of Israelite religions and early Judaism.
Jewish Film Series: Jewish Life in America

The Films of Aviva Kempner

The Life and Times of Hank Greenberg
Sunday, November 14, 6:30 p.m.
Whittenberger Auditorium, Indiana Memorial Union

Yoo-Hoo, Mrs. Goldberg
Followed by discussion with director Aviva Kempner
Thursday, November 18, 7:00 p.m.
Psychology Building 101

“True Honor is What We Gain for Ourselves; Maintaining Jewish Morale in Nazi Germany”
Wednesday, October 13, 7:30 p.m.
Oak Room, Indiana Memorial Union, Bloomington

and

“The German-Jewish Legacy in America”
Thursday, October 14, 7:30 p.m.
Arthur M. Glick Jewish Community Center, 6701 Hoover Road, Indianapolis

“Zionism and the Environment”
Professor Tamar Arieli Schusterman
Visiting Israeli Professor

Monday, September 20
7:30 p.m. Oak Room
Indiana Memorial Union
Bloomington

Dorit & Gerald Paul Lectures for the Study of Germans and Jews

Professor Michael Meyer
Adolph S. Ochs Professor of Jewish History Emeritus
Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion
JEWISH FILM SERIES CONTINUES AT THE NEW IU CINEMA

Thursday, February 3, 2011, 6:30 p.m. • The Pawnbroker (Sidney Lumet, 1965)
Lumet’s tragic, haunting, and intense film about a survivor of a concentration camp who opens a pawnshop in Harlem with the aim of refusing all meaningful emotional interactions.

Thursday, March 3, 2011, 6:30 p.m. • The Plot Against Harry (Michael Roemer, 1970/1989)
A playful yet dark comedy focuses on the life of a low-level gangster who seems to be historically and geographically out of step with his Jewish community.

Thursday, March 31, 2011, 6:30 p.m. • The Chosen (Jeremy Kagan, 1981)
Based on Chaim Potok’s novel by the same name, Kagan’s iconic film revolves around the effect the founding of the State of Israel has on the burgeoning friendship of two New York City Jewish teenage boys.

LILLIAN AND SAMUEL SOLOTKIN LECTURE

Thursday, February 10, 2011, 7:30 p.m. • Oak Room, Indiana Memorial Union
Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett, University Professor and Professor of Performance Studies, New York University

HART AND SIMONA HASTEN LECTURES (CO-SPONSORED BY ISCA)

Sunday, April 3, 2011, 8:00 p.m. • Frangipani Room, Indiana Memorial Union
“Anti-Zionism, Antisemitism, and the Intellectuals”
Bernard Harrison, E.E. Erickson Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, University of Utah

Monday, April 4, 2011, 8:00 p.m. • Frangipani Room, Indiana Memorial Union
“Lawfare: Delegitimizing Israel under the Cover of Law”
Irwin Cotler, PC, OC, MP, former Canadian Minister of Justice and Attorney General and Professor of Law, McGill University

2010-2011 JEWISH STUDIES GRADUATE STUDENT-FACULTY WORKSHOP SERIES

JS workshops provide opportunities for IU faculty and graduate students to learn with visiting and local scholars.

Dr. Sarah Imhoff, JSP Visiting Scholar, “The Gender of Difference: Race and the Construction of the American Jew, 1910-1925,” Friday, October 8

Professor Eugene Avrutin, University of Illinois, Professor of Modern History and Tobor Family Scholar, “Jews and Their Neighbors: Law and Interethnic Relations in the Russian Empire,” Friday, October 15

Dr. Asya Vaisman, JSP Visiting Scholar, “In the Steps of Our Foremothers: Themes and Genres of Contemporary Hasidic Women’s Yiddish Songs,” Friday, October 29

Professor Tamar Arieli, Schusterman Visiting Israeli Scholar, “Crossing the Jordan: A Study of Israel-Jordan Cross-Border Relations Since the 1994 Peace Treaty,” Friday, November 12

All fall workshops are from noon to 1:00 p.m. in the Distinguished Alumni Room (except the first workshop on October 8 which will be in the Sassafras Room of the Indiana Memorial Union.)

The series will continue in Spring 2011 with workshops led by Dr. Matthew Suriano (January 21), Professor Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett (February 11) and other scholars.
Golden medine (goldeneh me-dineh) n. the promised land, United States (literally, “the golden land”)

The photo is part of a series, “Yiddish from the Heartland,” produced by graduate student Rachel Seed in collaboration with Pearl Gluck as part of Seed’s artist-in-residency with the JSP.

2009-2010 Public Lectures and Events

- Edward A. Block Lecture
  Anita Shapira, Ruben Merenfeld Professor of the Study of Zionism, Tel Aviv University
  “Tel Aviv: 100 Years of the City on the Sands”

- Screening of “Divan” and discussion with film maker Pearl Gluck

- “Beyond the Racial State: Rethinking Nazi Germany” conference
  Conference convened by Professor Mark Roseman

- An evening with Israeli writer Etgar Keret

- Inaugural Lecture of the Modern Jewish Mysticism Initiative
  Elliott R. Wolfson, Abraham Lieberman Professor of Hebrew and Judaic Studies and Professor of History at NYU, “In an Instant: Advent of the (Non)event and Menahem Mendel Schneerson’s Postmessianic Messianism”

- Simona and Hart Hasten Lecture
  Aviva Zornberg, “From the Other Shore: Moses and Korach”

- Helen and Martin Schwartz Lectures
  Hava Tirosh-Samuelson, Director of JS and Irving and Miriam Lowe Professor of Modern Judaism and Professor of History at Arizona State University, “Jewish Environmentalism: The Biblical Conundrum” and “Nature in Modern Judaism: Between the Secular and the Religious”

- Yossi Turner, Professor of Modern Jewish Philosophy, Schechter Institute of JS and Schusterman Visiting Israeli Professor “Contemporary Israel: Vision and Reality”

- Inaugural Lecture of the Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism
  Robert Wistrich, Neuberger Professor for Modern European and Jewish History, HUJ, “Liberté, Égalité, Antisemitism: The French Connection”

- George Stolnitz Memorial Program
  Itzik Gottesman, Associate Editor, Yiddish Fortverts, “The Life of the Yiddish Folksinger”

- Bill and Frances Julian Program for Inter- and Intra Faith Understanding
  David Nirenberg, Deborah R. And Edgar D. Jannotta Professor, University of Chicago, “The Unbearable Judaism of Christian Aesthetics”

- Bruce David, artist, “The Artist and the Bible”

- The 14th Joan and Samuel New Institute for the Study of Judaism and the Jews
  “The Past and Future of Zionism,” an afternoon of study with Borns JSP faculty, IUPUI

Co-Sponsored Public Lectures and Events

- Ruth Zimbler, “Surviving Kristallnacht: A Personal Story”

- “Studio in Bloom” concert with a performance of Suite Hebraique No. 5 by Srul Irving Glick

- Support for IU’s WFIU-FM’s news director Stan Jastrzebski on-site coverage of the 65th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau

- Traveling exhibit from the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, “Nazi Persecution of Homosexuals”

- Nelson Vieira, Professor of Portuguese, Brazilian Studies, and Judaic Studies, Brown University
  “The Cultural Politics of Diasporic Identities: Ways of Being Jewish in Brazil”

- Talk by Eva Kor, Holocaust Survivor

- Bloomington Jewish Theater’s production of the play, “Leipzig” by Wendy Graf
2009-2010 JSP Faculty Book Launches

A new workshop series of book launches honored our faculty who had recently published books. These “Meet the Author” workshops allowed faculty the opportunity to acquaint themselves with their colleagues’ work, to engage in discussion with them about their research, and to congratulate them on the release of their books.

The 2010 series:

January 22

February 5

April 9

April 30

2009-2010 Jewish Studies Graduate Student-Faculty Workshop Series

- Professor Halina Goldberg, IU Musicology and JS
- Professor Maina Chawla Singh, American University/University of Delhi
- Professor Lee Shai Weissbach, University of Louisville
- Jolanta Mickutė, History and JS doctoral candidate
- Vicky Woeste, American Bar Foundation
- Itzik Gottesman, Forverts
- Professor Till van Rahden, Université de Montréal
- Professor Stephen Watt, IU English; College of Arts and Sciences’ Associate Dean of Undergraduate Education
- Professor John Waldbridge, IU Near Eastern Languages and Cultures
- Professor Julia Phillips Cohen, Vanderbilt University

In fall 2009, faculty and graduate students also met weekly to discuss Franz Rosenzweig’s Star of Redemption. The reading group was convened by visiting professor Yossi Turner.

JSP Establishes Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism

IU’s newly established Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism (ISCA), directed by Professor Alvin Rosenfeld, was inaugurated on January 14, 2010, with a lecture on antisemitism in France by Robert Wistrich of HUJ.

Because it dates back millennia, antisemitism has been called the “longest hatred.” The passions that fuel it are familiar, but the forms this hatred takes change over time. Through careful examination of these forms in their most ubiquitous contemporary expressions, ISCA scholars will bring to light what is new and what has been inherited from the antisemitic lexicons of the past.

In spring 2010, ISCA introduced a program of Graduate Student Research Incentive Awards. Three IU graduate students—Mohammed al-Azdee, Defne Jones, and Navruz Nekbakhtshoev—have received these awards and are currently pursuing sponsored research into antisemitism in present-day Iraq, Turkey, and Tajikistan. These students will join with Professor Rosenfeld and others in an ongoing seminar devoted to the refinement of this research and also to the study of antisemitic texts.

In April, 2011, ISCA will sponsor an international scholars’ conference, “Resurgent Antisemitism: Global Perspectives,” which will focus on the intellectual and ideological sources of contemporary antisemitism and will feature talks by 20 scholars from 10 different countries. A book of the conference proceedings will be published shortly thereafter.

Others ISCA-sponsored lectures, conferences, and research projects are being planned. For further information, please contact Professor Alvin H. Rosenfeld, at rosenfel@indiana.edu.
IU Press - Jewish Studies

IU Press JS books were once again honored by prestigious awards during the past year. JSP Director Jeffrey Veidlinger’s book Jewish Public Culture in the Late Russian Empire, describing the flowering of a grassroots Jewish secular culture during the last years of tsarist rule, received the 2010 Canadian Jewish Book Award for Scholarship on a Jewish Subject. Volume I of The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Encyclopedia of Camps and Ghettos, 1933-1945, under the general editorship of Geoffrey P. Megargee, was named a 2009 Choice Outstanding Academic book and the winner of a 2009 National Jewish Book Award for Holocaust Studies as well as the Association of Jewish Libraries’ award for the year’s outstanding reference work. Volume I provides detailed information on more than 1,700 camps and subcamps under SS jurisdiction. Volume II, on ghettos in German-occupied eastern Europe, is in preparation for release in fall 2011.

A new IUP JS book The Making of a Reform Jewish Cantor: Musical Authority, Cultural Investment was authored by JS faculty member Judah M. Cohen. The book follows cantorial students at the School of Sacred Music at Hebrew Union College over the course of their preparation to become modern Jewish musical leaders, learning in the process how to adapt traditional musical forms to the practices of contemporary American congregations.

IUP’s well-regarded series The Modern Jewish Experience, under general editors Deborah Dash Moore and Paula Hyman, added three new titles. Zionism and the Roads Not Taken: Rawidowicz, Kaplan, Kohn by Noam Pianko discusses the thought of three key interwar Jewish intellectuals who defined Zionism’s central mission as challenging the model of a sovereign nation-state. Kiev, Jewish Metropolis: A History, 1859-1914 by Natan M. Meir draws on archival documents, the local press, memoirs, and belles lettres to limn a portrait of Kiev’s Jews at work, at leisure, in the synagogue, and engaged in the activities of myriad Jewish organizations and philanthropies. Jewish Bialystok and Its Diaspora by Rebecca Kobrin explores the organizations, institutions, newspapers, and philanthropies that 19th- and 20th-century emigrants from Bialystok created around the world to strengthen their bonds as exiles from their east European homeland.

Jewish thought was the subject of two recent books: New Directions in Jewish Philosophy, edited by Aaron W. Hughes (who completed his Ph.D. with the JSP’s Michael Morgan) and Elliot R. Wolfson, offers news models that engage linguistics, poetics, aesthetics, and visual culture in the rereading of Jewish classic texts, demonstrating the vitality and originality of Jewish philosophy. Material Culture and Jewish Thought in America by Ken Koltun-Fromm draws from philosophy, cultural studies, literature, psychology, film, and photography to portray the vibrancy and richness of Jewish practice in America.

In association with the Littman Library of Jewish Civilization in Oxford, IUP published Rediscovering Traces of Memory: The Jewish Heritage of Polish Galicia by Jonathan Webber with photographs by the late British photographer Chris Schwartz, a photographic tribute to the memory of the great Jewish civilization that once flourished in eastern Poland.

In fall 2010, IU Press will launch the Indiana Series in Sephardi and Mizrahi Studies, edited by Harvey E. Goldberg and JSP Associate Director Matthias Lehmann. The series defines the Sephardi-Mizrahi field broadly to include medieval Iberian Jewry and the post-1492 Sephardi diaspora, as well as the Jews of the Islamic Middle East, North Africa, and Central Asia. It will include work from a variety of disciplines, including history, religious studies, anthropology, folklore, literary studies, and the arts. The first book in the series will be Jewish Culture and Society in North Africa, edited by Emily Benichou Gottreich and Daniel J. Schroeter.

Other books to be released in fall 2010 include The Invention of Jewish Identity: Bible, Philosophy, and the Art of Translation by Aaron W. Hughes; Gender and Jewish History, edited by Marion A. Kaplan and Deborah Dash Moore; Anti-Jewish Violence: Rethinking the Pogrom in East European History, edited by Jonathan Dekel-Chen, David Gaunt, Natan M. Meir, and Israel Bartal; and The Holocaust Object in Polish and Polish-Jewish Culture by Bozena Shallcross.

Readers seeking further information or wishing to order JS books and journals may visit IUP’s website: www.iupress.indiana.edu. Readers may also contact the Customer Service Department, IU Press, 601 North Morton Street, Bloomington, IN 47404; phone: (800) 842-6796; fax: (812) 855-7931; email: iuporder@indiana.edu.
JSP ADVISORY BOARD

The Borns JSP benefits from the leadership and counsel of an excellent Executive Committee and Advisory Board. These leaders, who are deeply committed to education and Jewish culture, have been essential for the Borns JSP’s success in community relations and fund raising.

The Advisory Board met in Indianapolis on August 26, 2009, and elected new officers, President Andy Mallor and Vice President Bobbi Kroot. The board will meet next in October 2010.

We are most grateful to our members for their time and commitment to the program and its students:

Executive Committee
Robert Borns
Dr. Ruth Feinberg
Leonard Goldstein
Bobbi Kroot
Andrew Mallor
Louis Mervis
Sybil Mervis
Dr. Mark Pescovitz

Advisory Board
Lawrence Adelman
Steven Ancel
Robert Aronson
Nancy Bate
Sandra Borns
Dr. Peter Cahn
Susan Cahn
Dr. Alice Ginott Cohn
Theodore Cohn
Claudette Einhorn
Benjamin Eisbart
Irving Glazer
June Herman
Francine Hurwitz
Dr. Louis Lemberger
Flo Mary Mantel
Irene New
Jeffrey New
Dorit Paul

Professor Eloise Paul
Gerald Paul
Dr. Ora Pescovitz
Lawrence Reuben
A John Rose
Judith Rose
Martin Schwartz
Norman Sider
Sidney Tuchman
Sally Zweig

Honorary Board
Eugene Bate
Alice Berkowitz

The Borns JSP can be contacted at iujsp@indiana.edu

Readers may keep up with news of the Borns JSP throughout the year at the JSP website: http://www.indiana.edu/~jsp/

Leonard Goldstein Honored by IU Foundation

Leonard Goldstein, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, a long-time JSP supporter, was one of three exceptional volunteer leaders recognized by the IU Foundation as “Outstanding Partners in Philanthropy” at a gala dinner in their honor on October 14, 2010. Len received the Foundation’s Cornerstone Award which recognizes an individual who has been instrumental in the philanthropic success of a specific campaign initiative. As a two-term president of the Borns JSP Advisory Board, he, along with his wife Rikki, spearheaded the campaign to create JS scholarships and fellowships that raised close to $2 million for IU students, as well as the campaign that established the Alvin H. Rosenfeld Chair in JS. The Goldsteins also established the Leonard M. and Ruth K. Goldstein Scholarship in JS, a four-year scholarship that will be awarded to an incoming freshman in fall 2011. An Ohio State alumnus, Len is a major reason for the Borns JSP’s continued growth.

“The Borns JSP is really a family and they have fostered a supporting community in the heart of Indiana.”
Emily Berman, 2010 JS B.A. and now a national field organizer for AIPAC
Behind each Borns JSP chair, scholarship, and success are generous people. Through their gifts, they have become partners who share the vision of the program.

JSP Endowments - Life/Perpetual Friends:

- Mildred L. Bern
- Henry A. Bern Memorial Scholarship Fund
- The Estate of Edward A. Block
- Edward A. Block Lecture Fund
- Sandra and Robert Borns
- Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Fund
- Borns Family Fellowship
- Dr. Alice Ginott Cohn and Theodore Cohn
- Dr. Alice Field Cohn in Yiddish Studies
- Alice Ginott Cohn, Ph.D. and Theodore Cohen (Yiddish) Fellowship
- Dr. Alice Field Cohn Award in Yiddish Studies
- Betty and Melvin Cohn
- Melvin and Betty Cohn JS Institute Fund
- Martin E. Dayan*
- Edward M. Dayan Scholarship in JS Fund
- Marsha and Jay Glazer
- Glazer Family Fellowship
- Irving M. Glazer Chair in JS
- Pat M. Glazer Chair in JS
- Alvin H. Rosenfeld Chair in JS
- Pat and Irving Glazer
- Glazer Family Fellowship
- Irving M. Glazer Scholarship
- Irving Glazer Scholarship
- Rikki and Leonard Goldstein
  - Leonard M. and Ruth K. Goldstein Endowment in JS
  - Leonard M. and Ruth K. Goldstein Scholarship
- Rita and John* Grunwald
- Pearl Schwartz Program Fund
- Frances and J. William* Julian
- Julian Endowment in JS
- Irving Katz Scholarship
- Rosey Krakovitz
- Karl and Rosey Krakovitz Scholarship
- Bobbi and Arthur Kroot
- Roberta and Arthur J. Kroot Scholarship
- Bernice and Herbert Lewetown
- Herb and Bernice Lewetown Scholarship
- Jane and Andrew Mallor
- Henry Fischel, Ph.D. Scholarship

Benefactor Friends ($1,000 or above):

- Sybil and Louis Mervis
  - Isadore Mervis Scholarship
  - Lou and Sybil Mervis Chair in Jewish Cultural Studies
  - Martha Ann Mervis Scholarship
  - Selma Lee Mervis Young Scholarship
  - Samuel* and Joan New
  - Sam and Joan New Institute Fund
- Dorit and Gerald Paul
  - Dorit and Gerald Paul Endowment for the Study of Germans and Jews
  - Dorit and Gerald Paul Endowment for Jewish Culture and the Arts
- Sondra and Arthur Percy
  - Percy Family Endowment
  - Leonore* and Louis* Piser
  - Leonore and Louis Piser Prize Fund
  - Frances* and Mendel* Piser
  - M. Mendel and Frances M. Piser Scholarship
  - Sara* and Albert* Reuben
  - Sara and Albert Reuben Scholarships in JS: Holocaust Studies
  - Jeannie and Jay Schottenstein
  - Jay and Jean Schottenstein Chair in Modern Judaism
- Helen* and Martin Schwartz
  - Helen and Martin Schwartz Scholars Program
  - Helen B. Schwartz Fund for New Scholarship in JS
  - Samuel Solotkin*
  - Lilian Solotkin Lecture Fund
  - Monique and George* Stolnitz
  - George and Monique Stolnitz Annual Yiddish Prize Endowment
  - Sandra and Stanley Trockman Scholarship
  - Sandra and Stanley Trockman Scholarship

Patron Friends ($500 or above):

- Carol and Lawrence Adelman
- Shaista and Dr. Shahid Athar
- Shirley Backer
- Marge and Professor Joseph Belth
- Dr. Daniel Berg and Marija Kropoves-Berg
- Jocelyn Bowie and David R. Semmel
- Elaine and Jonathan Bowman
- Shirley and Robert Caresky
- Nancy and Ronald Cohen
- Claudette and Dr. Lawrence Einhorn
- Sharon and Ben Eisbart
- Dr. Ruth Feinberg
- Five C Foundation, Inc.
- Shirley and Carl Cohen
- Betty Fleck*
- Phyllis and Edward Gabovitch
- Cynthia Glazer
- Caroline and Fritz Goldbach
- Mary Margarete and Dr. Kenneth Goldstein
- Sondra and Jack Gross
- Rita Grunwald
- Francine and Dr. Roger Hurwitz
In Memoriam

Leonard M. Berkowitz, beloved husband of Alice Berkowitz, long-time JSP advisory board and honorary board member, and father of Nancy Bate, advisory board member, died on July 7, 2010. Betty Holland Fleck of Indianapolis, formerly of Marion, Indiana, died on June 8, 2010. She was among the JSP’s first and most loyal supporters.

Frances Piser endowed with her late husband M. Mendel Piser a four year scholarship for JS undergraduates. She died on September 27, 2009.

Sara Rifkin Reuben, mother of advisory board member Larry Reuben, died in Indianapolis on January 10, 2010. She and her late husband Albert endowed annual scholarships for the study of the Holocaust.

Mel Simon, whose extraordinary generosity to IU included a gift that made the Helene G. Simon Hillel Center possible, died on September 16, 2009.

Dr. Marvin Jacobs
Judith and Robert Koor
Irving “Bud” Latz II
Katherine and James Lazerwitz
Irwin Levin
Flo Mary and Thomas Mantel
Tilden Mendelson and Network for Good
Susan and Marvin Mitchell
Gale and Dan Nichols
Prema and Professor William Popkin
Erna and Professor Alvin Rosenfeld
Rabbis Sandy and Dennis Sasso
Phyllis and Gary Schahet
Frank Selby
Florence (Renny) and Gregory Silver
Natalie Smulyan
Marvin Snyder
Doris and Philip Spiegel
Anne and Gary Steigerwald
Sandra and Dr. Lawrence Tavel
Sharon and Brett Trockman

Patron Associate Friends
($180-$499; 35 years and younger JSP alumni)
Dr. Jill and Joshua Samis
William Slatkin

Associate Friends
($36 and above; 35 years and younger JSP alumni)
Nicole Spiegel Eigler
David Fliesher
Miriam Pullman Friedman and Seth Friedman
David Orenstein

Supporters (up to $500):
Professor Jim Ackerman
Debby Allmayer and Jim Williams
Dr. Annette Alpert and Professor Darrell Haile
Stacey and Hank Berman
Mildred Bern
Gerda and Ellis Berne
Roberta and Charles Bernstein
David Blotner
Wilma and Joseph Borinstein
Debbie and Joseph Borinstein
Susan and Dr. Peter Cahn
Rosalie B. Cohn

Daniel Cook
Myra and Charles Echt
Judith Fink Ehrenstein and David Ehrenstein
Esther Epstein
Gail and Norman Ettinger
Evansville Jewish Community Council, Inc.
Myra and Donald Fisher
Barbara and Robert Forman
Susan and Martin Frank
Barbara and Irving Freeman
Patricia L. Gibson
Barbara and Donald Grande
Audrey and Martin Grossman
Charlene and Jeffrey Gubitz
Ann and Dr. Robert Harman
Professor Audrey and Kenneth Keller
Madeline Hirschland and Professor Larry Moss
Geraldine and Dr. Robert Hurwitz
Judith and Marshall Jacobs
Melinda Jaffe-Dunn and Matthew Dunn
Professor Idalesen Kesner and Paul Robins
Kirkland and Ellis Foundation
Francine and Allan Klenetsky
Juelci and Rabbi Ron Klotz
Carolyn Leahs
Barbara and David Lerman
Rebecca Proboszczky Lerner and Enrique Lerner
Valerie and William Lipnick
Dr. Carolyn Lipson-Walker and George Walker
Ernest Lorch
Judy and Terry Matzkin
Ronald Mendelblat
Daisy and John Meren
Beverly and Marvin Miller
Rebecca A. Miller

Lindsay Barton Mintz and Jason Mintz
Lynda and Breon Mitchell
Karen Nayhouse Morris and Donald Morris
Professor Ellen Muehlberger and Professor Gina Brandoloni
Ilene and Jeff New
B'Elissa and Gary Okin
Gail Orenstein
Mark Oring
Sandra and Arthur Percy
Rabbi Aaron Petuchowski
Cecilia and Charles Plust
Susan and Ted Polanski
Gail Standig-Portman and Rabbi Jeffrey Portman
Marcia J. Regenstrief
Rabbi Liz Rolle
Sydney Rome
Professor Michael Rosenblum
Jane S. Rothbaum
Greta Friedmann Rothschild
Florence and Dr. Joseph Schachter
Barbara Snyder Seidman
Rabbi Stacy Schlein and Jeremy Sosin
Dr. Paul Shapiro
Liat and Gary Shyken
Doris and Philip Siegel
Helaine B. Simon
Sinai Temple of Michigan City United Jewish Welfare Fund
Professors Dina and Martin Spechler
Donna Strnad
Sue Swartz and Professor Bruce Solomon
Stanley Talsnick
Betty and Dr. Morton Tavel
Professor Hava Tirosh-Samuelson
Norman Turkish
Carin and Harvey Weingarten
Elisa Brown Weinstein and Alan Weinstein
Jill Kingsley Weinstein and Douglas Weinstein
Penny and Mark Zieussman
Daniel Zweig

*Deceased
Italics - JSP Alumni
†Parents and grandparents of alumni
GRADUATE STUDENT NEWS

NEW JEWISH STUDIES MASTER’S DEGREE PROGRAM

In August 2010, a JS master’s degree was approved. This new degree will provide students with the advanced interdisciplinary and language study necessary to prepare them for a doctoral program in a disciplinary department or for non-academic careers in the professional world and nonprofit sector.

Students can also pursue a dual M.A. in JS and History or combine a JS master’s degree with a certificate in nonprofit management from the School of Public and Environmental Affairs. This new degree is an integral part of the JSP’s mission to train tomorrow’s leaders in the academic and professional world. For more information about applying to the program for fall 2011, e-mail iujsp@indiana.edu.

JEWISH STUDIES GRADUATE STUDENT ASSOCIATION FOUNDED

The active community of JS graduate students not only met regularly at faculty-graduate student workshops, but at events sponsored by the Jewish Studies Graduate Student Association (JSGSA), which became an official IU organization in early fall 2009. The JSGSA organized workshops where graduate students presented their research to peers, and hosted social gatherings and a film night. A panel of JSGSA members led a workshop for the undergraduate Jewish Studies Student Association, and described the process of applying to and succeeding in graduate school.

Officers for the 2009-2010 year were: Jessica Carr, president; Margot Valles, vice president; Ayesha Athar, secretary; Angela Kilson, treasurer; Erin Corber and Jolanta Mickutė, academic committee chairs; Dara Hill, social committee chair; and, Anya Quilitzsch and Mitsuko Kawabata, film night committee chairs.

WELCOME NEW GRADUATE STUDENTS!

The Borns JSP is very pleased to welcome a cohort of talented graduate students, including Avi Lang (Comparative Literature) who comes with support from The Alice Ginott Cohn, Ph.D. and Theodore Cohn Fellowship. Avi has already earned two master’s degrees: the first, at University of Reading’s Medieval Studies program and the second at Exeter College of Oxford University. Avi has studied Yiddish at NYU, Tel Aviv University, and the Vilnius Yiddish Institute. He is researching Yiddish modernist poetry, particularly the themes of ideology and individuality in the works of the Soviet Yiddish poet, Peretz Markish.

Constanze Kolbe (History) was awarded a Sephardic Studies Fellowship to study Jewish minorities in 19th century northern Greece. She pursued her undergraduate studies at Maastricht University and completed her master’s degree in Near and Middle Eastern Studies at the London School of Oriental and African Studies.

Allison Posner (Comparative Literature), a graduate of Cornell University and a past student at the Vilnius Yiddish Institute, received The Yiddish Graduate Fellowship.

Sebastian Schulman (Russian and East European Institute) will be a Research Assistant with the AHEYM project. A graduate of McGill in JS and History, he studied advanced Yiddish at the Vilnius Yiddish Institute and has been Public Programs Associate at YIVO Institute for Jewish Research and an Educator for the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee in Chișinău, Moldova.

Josh Berer (Central Eurasian Studies) has spent the past year conducting research among the Yemenite Jewish community. With support from a FLAS Fellowship, he plans to focus his work at IU on the Jewish community of Uzbekistan, particularly Bukhara.

Caitlin Goldbaum, (Folklore and Ethnomusicology) a graduate of Carleton College, is also pursuing a master’s degree in library science. She will be an Associate Instructor for Professor Judah Cohen’s spring 2011 “Music in Judaism” course.

GRANTS-IN-AID OF RESEARCH

Current IU graduate students working on topics of relevance to JS are invited to apply each year for the Borns JSP’s Grants-in-Aid of Research. These grants can be used to defray the costs of travel, summer language study, living expenses while conducting dissertation research and/or dissertation writing, photocopying, or other research expenses. Preference will be given to JS doctoral minors. Students must submit a proposal, transcript, budget, and letter of reference by March 9, 2011, to Professor Matthias Lehmann; Associate Director, Borns Jewish Studies Program; Indiana University; Goodbody Hall 326; 1011 E. 3rd St.; Bloomington, IN 47405-7005.

Support for Grants-in-Aid of Research is provided by the Friends of the JSP.
Announcing 2011-2012 Graduate Fellowships

The Friends of the Borns Jewish Studies Program Graduate Fellowship
The Glazer Family Fellowships
The Yiddish Graduate Fellowship
The Alice Ginott Cohn, Ph.D. and Theodore Cohn Fellowship for Yiddish Studies

Review of 2011-2012 applications will begin on January 17, 2011. The Borns JSP offers fellowships for incoming students accepted into a graduate degree program at IU who show clear promise of dedicating themselves seriously to scholarship within one of the core areas of JS. Each fellowship provides a stipend starting at $15,000 and a fee remission and can be tied to multi-year packages.

Prospective students must apply for admission directly to a graduate degree program at IU. In order to be considered for a JS fellowship, applicants to the IU Graduate School should send a copy of their completed IU application and request that three letters of recommendation be forwarded to Professor Matthias Lehmann, Associate Director, Borns Jewish Studies Program, Indiana University, Goodbody Hall 326, 1011 E. 3rd St., Bloomington, IN 47405-7005. Each application will be considered for all relevant fellowship and award opportunities.

News of Our Graduate Students

Currently graduating students affiliated with the Borns JSP are pursuing degrees in Anthropology, Comparative Literature, English, Folklore and Ethnomusicology, Germanic Studies, History, Near Eastern Languages and Culture, Philosophy, Religious Studies, and the Russian and East European Institute.

Ayesha Athar (History) is working with Professor Lehmann and researching the Jews of Morocco in the 20th century.

Supported by a JSP Grant-in-Aid of Research, Gabrielle Berlinger (Folklore) is spending the academic year in Israel conducting ethnographic research on the vernacular architecture and material culture of immigrant Jews in southern Tel Aviv, the topic of her dissertation. Last year, she was the Assistant Editor of Musica Judaica Online Reviews (http://mjreviews.org), edited by Professor Judah M. Cohen. In May 2010, she presented “An Artist’s Battle to Reclaim Her Past: The Heritage of Holocaust Art” at a material culture conference at the University of Michigan. Her essay, “770 Eastern Parkway: The Rebbe’s Home as Icon,” appeared in the anthology, Jesus at Home: The Domestication of Identity (May 2010).

Jessica Carr (Religious Studies) received a 2010 scholarship from the Brandeis University-Middlebury School of Hebrew for an intensive summer course in Hebrew, and she received a JSP Grant-in-Aid of Research for her tentatively titled dissertation “Zionization of America: The Early 20th-Century Transformation of American Reform Judaism.” Last year, she assisted with course development for Professor Shaul Magid’s courses: “The Struggle for the Holy Land,” “Religions of the West,” and “Jews, Christians, Muslims.” She is currently teaching “Introduction to Judaism” and will teach “American Judaism and Popular Culture” in spring 2011. Last year, she served as the inaugural president of the JSGSA. In spring 2010, Jessica co-chaired the Religious Studies Graduate Student Conference, “Religion, Nature, and Innovation.”

Erin Corber (History) gave a paper, “An Affair to Remember: A French-Jewish Crisis and the Case of Edgardo Mortara,” at the Paul Lucas Conference for Cultural History at IU. This year, she is in France researching her dissertation entitled “Bar Mitzvah de Feu: Fathers and Sons, the Great War and the New French Jew,” which explores the generational impact of the First World War on France’s Jewish communities in the interwar period. Her research is funded by a fellowship granted by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC).

Evelyn Dean-Olmsted (Anthropology) is writing her dissertation, tentatively titled “To be a Mexican Arab Jew: Navigating Class and Religion in Mexico City.” Her article “Shamis, Halebis and Shajatos: Labels and the Dynamics of Syrian Jewishness,” will be published in the journal Language and Communication. Her research is funded by a Foundation for Jewish Culture Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship. Evie and her husband Josh welcomed their son Jacob Irving Olmsted on June 3, 2010.

Dara Hill (Religious Studies) completed her master’s degree in Philosophy from Purdue University. This summer, with support from the Borns JSP and the College of Arts & Sciences, she presented a paper “Religious Self-Consciousness and Obligation in ‘A Religion for Adults’” at the Société Internationale de Recherche Emmanuel Levinas/North American Levinas Society joint conference in Toulouse, France.

Mitsuko Kawabata’s (Ethnomusicology) research interest is music and the hybrid identity of Latin American Jews. Her article, “Between Tradition and Creativity: Why Do Jewban Musicians Perform Their Identity?” (originally written in Japanese) was published in the report Crossing Arts and Media under the Japanese governmental Global COE program.

A JSP Grant-in-Aid from the Glazer Family Fellowship recipient and a Claims Conference Academic Fellow for 2010-2011, Barbara Krawcowicz (Religious Studies) is researching her dissertation, “Covenantal Theodicy among Haredi and Modern Jewish Thinkers During and After the Holocaust.” She came to IU after earning her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in philosophy from Warsaw University in Poland. She taught “Judaism and the Holocaust” in spring 2010.
With support for a JSP Grant-in-Aid of Research, Elizabeth Lambert (History) is completing dissertation research in Berlin and Weimar, Germany, and participated in Yiddish Summer Weimar in July. Last spring, she presented papers at the German Historical Institute’s Trans-Atlantic Doctoral Seminar in Jena and at the doctoral workshop of the Zentrum für Zeitgeschichtliche Forschung in Potsdam. Her chapter “Contested Memory: East German Representations of Weimarer Klassik and Gedenkstätte Buchenwald” appeared this summer in Justice, Politics, and Memory in Europe after the Second World War, edited by J.T. Steinert, Susanne Bardgett, David Cesarani and Jessica Reinisch (Vallentine Mitchell).

Devi Mays (History) presented a paper “Sons of the Patria or Sons of a ‘Real’ Jewish Family: Ottoman Jewish Identification During the Balkan Wars and World War I” at the Paul Lucas Conference for Cultural History at IU. She presented “Los Turcos: Sephardic Jewish Immigrants in Mexico, Preliminary Analysis” at a conference of Tinker Research Fellows at IU, and she participated in the “Sepharad in the Americas” panel at Etz Chaim synagogue in Indianapolis. She is spending this year in Israel, Mexico, and Turkey (supported by a JSP Grant-in-Aid of Research provided by the Sephardic Studies Initiative) researching her dissertation “Komo el Pasharo ke Bola, Like the Bird that Flies: The Migration of Sephardic Jews from the Ottoman Empire and Turkey to Mexico, 1908-1934,” which examines questions of cultural, communal, and religious continuity and change for Sephardim on both sides of this migratory process, yielding insight into the making of Turkish and Mexican national identities.

Jolanta Mickute (History) plans to complete her dissertation “Modern, Jewish, Female: The Politics of Culture, Ethnicity, and Sexuality in Interwar Poland, 1918-1939” this year. This summer, she taught an intensive history survey course on modern eastern Europe.

Any Quilitzsch (History) completed her M.A. at Harvard in 2007. A research assistant for the AHEYM project, she is studying modern Jewish history.

Supported by a JSP Grant-in-Aid of Research and a Skomp Award from IU Anthropology, Devorah Shubowitz (Anthropology) began dissertation fieldwork in New York this summer, investigating how liberal Jewish women apply sacred text study to their daily lives in order to understand the gendering effects of religious text study and application. “The Centripetal and Centrifugal Tensions in Orthodox Women’s Scholarly Efforts for Religious-Legal Change” will appear in the Berkeley Journal of Sociology. This paper won IU Anthropology’s David Bidney Paper Prize and the University of Kentucky’s Mark and Ruth Luckens International Prize in Jewish Thought.

Amy Simon (History) is writing her dissertation examining Jewish Holocaust victims’ perceptions of perpetrators in Poland through an analysis of their wartime Yiddish diaries. She is looking particularly at diaries written in the Warsaw, Vilna, and Lodz ghettos, examining what kinds of language are used to describe German, local, and Jewish perpetrators and collaborators. She is a previous recipient of the Leon Milman Memorial Fellowship at the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum and is currently a Claims Conference Fellow working under the direction of Professor Mark Roseman.

Benjamin Thorne (History) received a Grant-in-Aid of Research and a Mellon Dissertation Write-Up Fellowship from the Russian East European Institute for his dissertation on the Roma Holocaust. He taught “World History” at Franklin College in fall 2009 and “Jews of Eastern Europe” at IU in spring 2010.

Margot Valles (Comparative Literature) traveled this summer to Ukraine with the AHEYM project. Her areas of research include old Yiddish romances, humor in Jewish literature, and comparative literature.
Recent and Forthcoming Course Offerings

The curriculum of more than 50 courses offered each year by the Borns JSP is both broad and deep.

College of Arts and Sciences

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Course</th>
<th>Instructor(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Power, Politics, and Piety: The Struggle for the Holy Land in Israel/Palestine</td>
<td>Magid</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What Makes It Jewish?</td>
<td>Cohen</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

English

- Rhetoric, Representation, and the Holocaust (graduate course) — Schilb

Folklore and Ethnomusicology

- Exploring Jewish Identity Today — Cohen
- Music in Judaism — Cohen

Germanic Studies

- A Language Without an Army: Functions and Conceptions of Yiddish Through the Ages (graduate course) — Kerler
- Beginning Yiddish I and II — Kerler, Vaisman
- Fantasy, Realism, and Fiction: First Century of Modern Yiddish Literature, 1810-1913 — Kerler
- Ghetto, Shtetl, and Beyond: Millennium of History and Society of Yiddish — Kerler
- Yiddish Poetry (graduate course) — Kerler

Jewish Studies

- Advanced Modern Hebrew I and II — Weiss
- American Judaism and Popular Culture — Carr
- Biblical Themes in Modern Hebrew Literature — Katz
- Contemporary Israel: Ethnicity, Society, and Religion — Turner
- Contemporary Jewish Humor in Film and Television — Gluck
- David: The Man and the King — Katz
- Elementary Hebrew I and II — Maoz-Levy, Naor
- Gender and Rabbinic Literature — Imhoff
- Intermediate Biblical Hebrew I and II — Weiss
- Intermediate Modern Hebrew I and II — Maoz-Levy, Weiss
- Israel Society: Political, Social, and Religious Divides — Arieli
- Jewish Studies as an Academic Discipline (graduate course) — Magid
- Jewish Thought (for graduate students) — Turner
- Jews and Race in the United States — Imhoff
- Recent Hebrew Literature in English — Katz
- Recent Hebrew Literature in Hebrew — Katz
- Women in American Jewish History — Katz
- Understanding the Rabbinic Mind — Imhoff
- Zionism and the State of Israel — Arieli

History

- Antisemitism Since the Enlightenment — Roseman
- The Arab-Israeli Conflict — Arieli
- The Holocaust in American Memory — Linenthal
- Introduction to Jewish History: From the Bible to Spanish Expulsion — Lehmann, Veidlinger
- Introduction to Jewish History: From Spanish Expulsion to the Present — Lehmann, Veidlinger
- Jewish Memories, Memoirs, and History — Veidlinger
- Jews in the Modern World — Lehmann
- Jews of Eastern Europe — Thorne
- Testimonies of the Holocaust — Roseman
- Zionism and the State of Israel — Arieli

Honors

- Literature of the Holocaust — Rosenfeld
- Understanding Antisemitism — Rosenfeld

Religious Studies

- Death and the Afterlife in Ancient Judaism — Suriano
- Introduction to Hebrew Bible — Suriano
- Introduction to Judaism — Carr
- Introduction to the New Testament — Harrill
- Jesus and the Gospels — Harrill
- The Jewish Jesus from Late Antiquity to the Present — Magid
- Judaism and Gender — Magid
- Judaism and the Holocaust — Krawcowicz
- Paul and His Influence on Early Christianity — Harrill
- Prophecy in Ancient Israel — Suriano
- Religions in Ancient Rome — Harrill

Slavic Languages and Literatures

- Polish Jewish Culture — Stern-Gottschalk
- Yiddish Creativity, Literature, and Culture in Russian Context (graduate course) — Kerler

“The selection of classes one can take is amazing.” Philip Yatvin, JS certificate student, class of 2012
Scholarships Awarded to JS Undergraduates for 2010-2011

The Borns JSP is dedicated to assisting JS students with financial need and recognizing outstanding student performance. Ten continuing JS major and certificate students received scholarship and internship funding for this academic year.

Fort Wayne Jewish Federation Scholarship - Jamie Ehrenpreis, Skokie, IL
Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Merit Scholarships - Abby Ross - Deerfield, IL
Kimberly Marshall - Morton Grove, IL
Julia Spiegel - Skokie, IL
Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Scholarships - Carly Valfer - Skokie, IL
Sarah Glasser - Weston, CT
Lily Tash - Sherman Oaks, CA
The Percy Family Scholarship - Aela Sapir - Bloomington, IN
Sandra and Stanley Trockman Scholarship - Julia Spiegel
Irving Katz Scholarship - Lauren Vandersluis - Dayton, OH
Henry Fischel Ph.D. Scholarship - Marisa Briefman - Sarasota, FL

Two students were awarded Sara and Albert Reuben Scholarship to Support the Study of the Holocaust: graduate student Amy Simon and undergraduate student Tarlise Townsend.

Undergraduate News

Are You a High School Senior? Thinking About IU? Interested in Jewish Studies? Concerned About How to Afford College?

Then Apply for a JSP Scholarship of Up to $20,000 ($5,000 per Year for 4 Years)

Priority Deadline: Friday, October 29, 2010.
Final deadline: Monday, January 25, 2011 (Students applying to IU before November 1, 2010 will also automatically be considered for additional university-wide academic scholarships.)

To apply, submit:
1) Cover letter providing name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, with a signed statement of commitment to pursue either the JS major or certificate
2) Official high school transcript
3) A personal statement that addresses plans for academic work at IU and the specific way that a major or certificate in JS will figure in the applicant’s undergraduate education and career plan
4) A resume detailing extracurricular activities, awards, and honors
5) Two letters of recommendation. (At least one of the two recommendations must come from a high school teacher well acquainted with the student’s academic strengths and should focus on the student’s academic abilities.)

Students applying for an IU Selective Application Scholarship by the deadline, need only mail the Borns JSP a personal statement (see 3 above) and a signed statement of commitment (see 1 above).

Mail, E-mail or FAX applications to:
Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Jewish Studies Program
Indiana University
Goodbody Hall 326
1011 E. Third Street
Bloomington, Indiana 47405-7005
FAX (812) 855-4314; e-mail: iujsp@indiana.edu.

Transcripts and recommendations may be mailed or e-mailed directly to the JSP.

Incoming freshmen JSP scholarships are made possible by the generosity of Sybil and Lou Mervis, of Danville, Illinois; Robert and Sandra Borns; Pat and Irving Glazer, of Indianapolis; Jay and Marsha Glazer, of Mercer Island, Washington; Leonard and Rikki Goldstein, of Fort Wayne; Rosey Krakovitz, of Bloomington, and the late Karl Krakovitz; Bobbi and Art Kroot, of Columbus, Indiana; Herb and Bernice Levetown, of Tenafly, New Jersey; and, the late Francis M. Piser and M. Mendel Piser.

JS Majors
With the graduation of 16 JS majors during the 2009-2010 year, 255 students have completed the B.A. in JS since our major was established in 1992. The 2009-2010 class:
Emily Berman (magna cum laude; Hutton Honors College program) - Louisville, Kentucky
Jessica Bram - Solon, Ohio
Rachel (Shelly) Farahan - Carmel, Indiana
Sara Geboff - Longwood, Florida
Eric Goode - Deerfield, Illinois
Jessica Gross - Northbrook, Illinois
Riley Holzman (cum laude; Hutton Honors College program) - Santa Barbara, California
Lauren Jacobson (magna cum laude) - Englewood, Ohio
Sarah-Beth Kirshner - Marietta, Georgia
Rachel Klein - Louisville, Kentucky
Aaron Ofengender - Indianapolis, Indiana
Francine Schrank (cum laude) - Indianapolis
Riley Holzman (cum laude; Hutton Honors College program) - Louisville, Kentucky
Jillian Ben-Ezra - West Bloomfield, Michigan
Sara Geboff - Longwood, Florida
Eric Goode - Deerfield, Illinois
Michael Goss - West Bloomfield, Michigan
Jackie Greenspan - Encino, California
Riley Holzman
Samantha Hutt
Paula Kramer (magna cum laude) - Mayfield Village, Ohio
Tovah Lieberman - Jamesville, New York
*Sara McKinnon-Crowley - Indianapolis
Max Newman - Indianapolis
Aaron Ofengender
Rebecca Scharf - Los Angeles, California
Francie Schrank
Oren Shmoel - Indianapolis
Jake Spalding
Jessica Wainer
Erica Weiss - Encino, California
Aren Wilson-Wright
*Phi Beta Kappa
Graduating with Honors in JS
Jessica Wainer’s thesis “The Role of NFTY and URJ Summer Camps in the Creation, Testing, and Dissemination of Mishkan T’filah” was directed by Professor Judah Cohen.

JS Certificate Students
Joining the more than 400 alumni of our JS certificate program, were graduates:
Brad Ashba - Sullivan, Indiana
Samanta Hutt - Granger, Indiana
Olivia Lichaa - Barrington, Rhode Island
Jennifer Rudy - Carmel, Indiana
Marissa Salat - Buffalo Grove, Illinois
Julia Steigerwald - Bloomington, Indiana

This Year’s Incoming Freshmen Scholarship Recipients
Congratulations to:
Irving Glazer (4 year) Scholarship: Stephanie Katz - Yorba Linda, CA
Isadore Mervis (4 year) Scholarship:
Bari Finkel - Glenview, IL
Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Scholarship:
Adam Libby - Germantown, TN
Selma Lee Mervis Young (4 Year) Scholarship for Jewish Sacred Music Program and Irving M. Glazer Student Scholarship:
Happie Hoffman - Memphis, TN

Yiddish Club Founded
Adding to the lively JSP student community, the IU Yiddish Club was founded last year by graduate student Margot Valles and undergraduate student Jamie Ehrenpreis. Meeting twice a month, club members were exposed to Yiddish culture through music, literature, personal recollections, and discussions. The club continues this year and is open to all IU students, Yiddish and non-Yiddish speakers alike.

Summer Yiddish Workshops
For a fifth summer, IU was the sight of an intensive Yiddish summer course. Part of the Summer Workshop in Slavic, East European, and Central Asian Languages (SWEESL), the course was taught by Asya Vaisman. The IU JSP provided student funding.
NEWS OF OUR MAY 2010 GRADUATES . . .

Brad Ashba is pursuing a master’s degree in Jewish education from Gratz College.
Emily Berman is a national field organizer for AIPAC and is the newest IU Alumni Association board member in Washington, D.C.
Shelly Farahan is pursuing a graduate degree at Touro College to prepare to be a Physician’s Assistant.
Lauren Jacobson is the Development Coordinator for the Chicago Jewish Day School.
Sarah-Beth Kirshner is the Administrative Assistant for The Jewish Coalition Against Domestic Abuse in Washington, D.C.
Rebecca Schatz is a new graduate student in the M.A. Education/B. Literature program in Judaic Education and Hebrew at the American Jewish University. She is also the USY advisor and the 7th grade teacher at Sinai Temple.
Julia Steigerwald is a Media Fellow at The Israel Project in Washington, D.C.
Mark Swick is the Education Fellow at the Institute for Southern Jewish Life.
Jessica Wainer is Program Associate for the American Zionist Movement in Chicago and will begin rabbinical school at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in summer 2011.
Mara Weiss is a master’s degree in Social Work student at IUPUI.
Aren Wilson-Wright is pursuing a Ph.D. in Hebrew Studies at the University of Texas supported by a Jacob K. Javits Fellowship.
Avi Zimmerman began medical school at the University of Cincinnati.

NEW INTERNSHIP COURSE

In 2009-2010, two JS majors Sarah-Beth Kirshner and Sara Geboff were JSP interns, both in cooperation with the Jewish Education Service of North America and the Lainer Foundation.
JS major Lauren Jacobson, an intern at the IU Foundation, assisted the JSP in fund raising. And JS major Carly Valfer was the JSP student assistant.
The success of these pilot internship projects led us to establish a new course “Internship in Jewish Studies” which allows students to gain practical experience in the field of JS outside of the classroom. Although students are responsible for setting up their own internships, the JSP has worked closely with local Jewish institutions, including the Helene G. Simon Hillel and Congregation Beth Shalom, to establish partnerships and internship opportunities for our students. Our students will take advantage of the new course to earn credit for summer internships at national organizations, such as the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism, the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, the American-Israel Public Affairs Committee, and numerous other institutions.

STUDENT CONFERENCE FUNDING

Part of the JSP’s commitment to student support is our tradition of enabling graduate and undergraduate students to attend academic and professional conferences related to JS. In 2009-2010, more than $5,500 was granted to undergraduate and graduate students who delivered papers and/or attended conferences, including, the Society for Ethnomusicology in Mexico City; National Bodies in Eastern Europe in Wellington, New Zealand; the Association for JS in Los Angeles; the Society for Biblical Literature in New Orleans; and, the National Convention of the Association of Jewish Libraries in Seattle.
IU - MOST STUDENTS STUDYING IN ISRAEL

AWARD FOR CAMPUS ACTIVISM ON BEHALF OF ISRAEL

IU and the Borns JSP continue to expand their relationship with Israel. In 2009-2010, IU had more students studying at The Hebrew University’s (HUJ) Rothberg International School than any other university in the world and one of the largest Israel Overseas programs. This semester, half of the students in Rothberg’s new Dance Jerusalem program are IU students.

In other Israel news, JS students in Bloomington—Emily Berman, Ben Gurin, Dana Levy, Sarah-Beth Kirshner, Mark Swick, Aela Sapir, Lauren Vandersluis, and Jackie Wolff along with other IU students—were awarded the 2010 Duke Rudman Annual Leadership Award/Campus Cadre of the Year for campus activism on behalf of Israel.

JSP AND ALUMNI SHARE JOB OPPORTUNITIES VIA E-MAIL

More than a decade ago, the Borns JSP established an e-mail job network for our alumni. The network enables our alumni and the JSP to share information about job openings.

If you are a Borns JSP alumnus/alumna and would like to be on this e-mail job list, please e-mail clipsonw@indiana.edu. If you have been on the list but recently changed your e-mail address, please send your new e-mail address to clipsonw@indiana.edu.

“The close-knit community of the JSP has really made an impact on my experience at IU. The individual attention I receive in terms of advising and when speaking to a professor is more than I could ask for in a program and has exceeded my expectations in many ways.” Sarah Pellegrino, JS major, class of 2012

2009–2010 JSSA officers
President Jessica Wainer
Vice President Matt Cohen
Secretary Ben Gurin
Treasurer Allie Shipper

Elected JSSA officers for the 2010-2011 year are:
President Ben Gurin
Vice President Carly Valfer
Secretary Marisa Briefman

Student activities in 2009-2010 included:
— JS Student-Faculty Welcome Dessert
— Frisbee, Food, and More in Dunn Meadow
— A dinner for majors at the Veidlinger home
— Weekly Hebrew Table/Shulchan Ivrit at kosher café at Hillel - Matt Cohen, Josh David, David Locker, and Sarah Wilensky, co-chairs
— “Meet the Professor” dinners at Hillel
— JSSA Officers/JS Freshman Interest Group students/professors dinner
— Dinner at Falafel’s Israeli restaurant
— Meet the JSSA board at Starbucks
— JS Student-Faculty Gala Dinner
2010 Piser Prize

Outstanding JS Graduate

Through the Piser Prize and other initiatives, the Borns JSP hopes to demonstrate to our graduating seniors the high value of careers in JS. Of a graduating class of 38 JS students, Aren Wilson-Wright was deemed the most outstanding graduating student who plans to pursue a career related to Jewish Studies.

Aren graduated summa cum laude in May 2010 with majors in JS, Religious Studies (with honors), and Mathematics. This fall, he begins study toward his Ph.D. in Hebrew Studies at the University of Texas with support from a Jacob K. Javits Fellowship awarded by the U.S. Department of Education. Elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Aren was one of two students in the IU College of Arts and Sciences to be awarded the prestigious $20,000 Palmer-Brand Award.

The $750 Piser Prize is awarded annually to an outstanding graduating JS B.A., certificate, or Hebrew minor student who is planning further graduate work in JS and a career in the field. Making the award possible were the late Leonore and Louis Piser, of South Bend.

2010 George and Monique Stolnitz Yiddish Prize

Jamie Ehrenpreis

Jamie Ehrenpreis, sophomore from Skokie, Illinois, was awarded the 2010 George and Monique Stolnitz Yiddish Prize which recognized her as the student showing the greatest promise in the study of Yiddish language or literature. Jamie is both a JS and a Biology major, completing a minor in Yiddish.

As a freshman, she was selected as a Teaching Assistant for Professor Dov-Ber Kerler’s “Yiddish in the Post-Holocaust World” course. Jamie studied at the Vilnius Yiddish Institute in summer 2009. She is the recipient of the 2010-2011 Fort Wayne Jewish Federation Scholarship, our most prestigious scholarship for rising junior and senior students.

The Stolnitz Prize is an expression of Monique and the late George Stolnitz’s strong commitment to the advancement of education in Yiddish language and culture.

2010 Bern Essay Prize Winner

Sarah Wilensky

For the second time, JS, Religious Studies, and Political Science/Economics major Sarah Wilensky, a junior from St. Paul, Minnesota, received the Henry A. Bern Memorial Essay Prize in JS, this time for her paper, “Wisdom, Folly, Worth: Conceptualizations of the Feminine in Proverbs 1-9 and 31”. One committee member wrote that Sarah’s essay “provides a rich, in-depth analysis of the dual image of woman in the Book of Proverbs . . . Among the essay’s strengths are its interesting insights into the biblical text, its ability to make an ancient text speak to contemporary concerns, and its ample use of textual documentation to make its case.”

Sarah has emerged not only as a leader in the classroom, but also in the JSSA (serving as secretary); as the co-president of STAND: A Student Anti-Genocide Coalition; the task force chair for Divestment from Darfur; as co-president of Hillel Keshet for GLBT students; and as Educational Events Chair for INPIRG - the Indiana Public Interest Research Group.

The annual Bern Essay Competition was established to honor the memory of Henry A. Bern, Professor Emeritus in the IU School of Education, loyal supporter of the Borns JSP, and a long-time Bloomington resident.
Alumni News

Rabbi Debra Blank (1977) spent the 2009-2010 year as a Fellow at Brandeis University researching a book on Jewish baby girl initiation ceremonies.

Joani Keller Rothenberg (1985) has collaborated with Rabbi Sandy Sasso as the illustrator on several Jewish children’s books, including Adam and Eve’s First Sunset: God’s New Day; Cain & Abel: Finding the Fruits of Peace; and, Butterflies Under Our Hats. Joani works with children as an art therapist in Indianapolis.

Andrew Goodman (1993) began The Wolcott Group, a real estate investment company in Chicago, more than 11 years ago.

Jodi Honigbaum Granok (1993) is the Religious School Program Coordinator at Congregation Shaare Emeth in St. Louis where she has been a Sunday and Hebrew school teacher for 17 years. She runs her own professional organizing business, “Organizing Magic, LLC”.

Colin Hogan (1994) is principal of the Hatikvah Charter School in East Brunswick, NJ.

Jenn Zwilling (1994) and husband Jon Rosenwasser and their son Max welcomed sister Roxanne on September 17, 2009. Jenn is Director of the Experiential Educators Program at the Joseph Meyerhoff Center for Learning at International Hillel.

Jessica Hazan Jundef (1995) is a teacher at the Solomon Schechter Day School of Greater Monmouth County in Marlboro, New Jersey.

Alberta Comer (1997) was named Dean of the Indiana State University Library.

Professor Eve Shapiro’s (1998) new book Gender Circuits: The Evolution of Bodies and Identities in the Technological Age (Contemporary Sociological Perspectives) was published by Routledge Press in 2010. Eve teaches at the University of Connecticut.

Ellen Goldberg Butler (1999) is a Major Gifts Officer with Hadassah.

Sean Herstein (1999) is in his third year of teaching JS at the Amos and Celia Helicher Minneapolis Jewish Day School.

Robin St. Cyr Anderson (2000) is Associate Director for Camp Young Judaea Midwest.

Jonah Geffen (2000) and his wife Julia are the proud parents of Bina Batsheva Mannes Geffen - born October 3, 2009. Jonah is a rabbinical student at The Jewish Theological Seminary.

Shauna Replane Leavez (2000) is Principal of Baltimore Hebrew Congregation religious school.

John Meyers (2000) is an IT security support specialist for IBM in Dubuque, Iowa.

Kate Breiter Uslan (2000) is Writing Manager for the Alliance for a Healthier Generation’s Healthy Schools Program, co-founded by the American Heart Association and the William J. Clinton Foundation. (See photo). She is married to Ethan (Eytan) Uslan (2001) who placed third in the World Championship of Old Time Piano, and they are the parents of Ben and Henry.

Jami Trockman Bachrad (2001) is Director of Birthright Israel Foundation in Los Angeles.

Rabbi Alissa Wise (2001), Program Director at Ma’yan, The Jewish Women’s Project in New York City, was named “someone to watch” by HEEB magazine.

Chantelle Aspey (2002) is vice president for public relations for Endemal USA, a producer of TV shows.

Shira Behar (2002) completed a master’s degree in Education and is a teacher at The Orchard School in Indianapolis.

Dr. Robert Cating (2002) is Director of Biotechnology Research for Twyford International, developing new treatments for cancer by producing proteins in plants via plant viruses. He completed his doctorate in Plant Pathology at the University of Florida in December, 2009.

Rabbi Andy Kastner (2002) is the newly named rabbi of the St. Louis Hillel at Washington University. He was ordained in the spring from Yeshivat Chovevei Torah rabbinic school. He was honored with the Riverdale Jewish Community Council’s Leadership Award. Andy and his wife Leslie Cohen Kastner (2000) are the parents of 12 month old Asher.

Rabbi Philip Ohriner (2002) was ordained by The Jewish Theological Seminary in spring 2010 and is the Assistant Rabbi at Congregation Beth David in Saratoga, CA.

Amanda Meyer Radman (2002) and her husband Dan are parents of baby Julie. Amanda is Youth Director at Anshe Emet Synagogue in Chicago.

Dr. Jen Steiman (2002) has a fellowship in cardiothoracic anesthesia at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Scott Zuick (2002) is a Fellow in Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania Medical Center.

Dr. Yuval Asner (2003) is a psychiatric resident at Johns Hopkins University Medical Center.

Dr. Marie Harf (2003) is a media spokesperson for the CIA.

Rabbi (An)Drew Kaplan (2003) is Alevy Family Campus Rabbi for Long Beach and Orange County Hillels.

Professor Adam Rovner (Ph.D., 2003) and wife Jessica Cohen welcomed daughter Talia Ruth Rovner in March, 2010. Adam is Assistant Professor of English and JS at the University of Denver.
Marc Silberstein completed his master’s in Jewish Education from the Pardes/Hebrew College program. He and his wife Shosh have moved to Detroit where Marc is Director of Jewish Life at the Frankel Jewish Academy in Detroit.

Leah Hedrick Aft (2004) is Assistant Director of IU Hillel and her husband Aaron Aft (2004) is an IU law school student. They are the parents of Caleb, born December, 2009.

Brian Rosenzweig (2004) made aliyah. He is Director of Marketing and Managing Director for Expansion Media in Tel Aviv.

Jill Smith (Ph.D., 2004) was awarded the Sydney B. Karofsky Prize for excellence in teaching at Bowdoin College. Rabbi Elizabeth Wood (2004) was religious education director and cantorial soloist, Temple Beth El, Tacoma, Washington this past year. She enters HUC-JIR cantorial school this fall.

Jennifer Gubitz (2005) is a third year rabbinic student at HUC-JIR in New York. She was student rabbi in Steubenville, Ohio last year, and this year she is a community organizer/rabbinic intern at a synagogue in Mahwah, New Jersey.

Jen Kraus Rosen (2005) is Chief Operating Officer for the Moishe House(s).

Megan Roberts (2006), Education Fellow at the Institute for Southern Jewish Life, is now a graduate student in the Vanderbilt University Human Resources program.

Joanna Blotner (2007) is the Religion and Faith Coordinator at the Human Rights Campaign in D.C.

Ben Ellerin (2007) was Program Director at the IU Hillel in 2010 and began cantorial school at HUC-JIR this fall.

Julia Franks (2007) completed a master’s degree in Diplomacy and Conflict Studies from the Interdisciplinary Center in Herzliya and is a grant writer for Facing History and Ourselves in Boston.

Jake Ginsburg (2007) is a student at Temple University Law School.

Sarah Kaplan (2007) is marrying Robert Ferrin in October 2010. They live in Charlotte where Sarah is Director of Community Relations and Israel Affairs for the Jewish Federation of Greater Charlotte.

Rachel Schonwald (2007) is Registration Manager for BBYO Passport to the World trips.

Rachel Kaplan (2008), a rabbinical student at HUC-JIR, is engaged to Albert Marks.

Inna Kolesnikova is Young Leadership Director and Donor Relations Manager for the Indianapolis Jewish Federation.

Heather Kornick (2009) is Junior Youth Group Advisor, Temple Chai, Long Grove, IL. She is in her third year of battling stage IV adrenal cortisol cancer, and continuing to be an inspiration as she goes through radiation and chemotherapy.

Nina Loftspring (2009) is a Jewish education student at HUC-JIR spending her first year in Jerusalem.

Andrew Schwimmer (2009) is a graduate student in Near Eastern Studies at NYU.

Community Outreach

In addition to its teaching and research missions, the Borns JSP faculty places a significant emphasis on serving broad constituencies outside of the classroom.

The 14th Joan and Samuel New Institute for the Study of Judaism and the Jews

“Sepharad in the Americas,” was an afternoon of discussion with Professors Judah Cohen and Matthias Lehmann, and JS doctoral students Evie Dean-Olmsted and Devi Mays, at Etz Chaim Sephardic Congregation, Indianapolis on March 21, 2010.

In summer 2010, Alvin Rosenfeld spoke on “What is the ‘New’ Antisemitism? And What Can We Do about it?” at the annual meeting of the Indianapolis Jewish Community Relations Council and at the National Society of Newspaper Columnists conference.

Dina Spechler presented “The Obama Administration, the Netanyahu Government and the Arab-Israeli Conflict: What Can We Expect?” on June 17, 2009, and “Obama, Israel, and the Middle East,” on August 5, 2010 at Congregation Shaarey Tphiloh, in Portland, Maine. She also spoke about “The Obama Administration, the U.S. Approach to the Arab-Israeli Conflict and the Prospects for Peace,” at Congregation Beth Shalom, Bloomington, on July 6, 2009.

Jeffrey Veidlinger presented, “Marc Chagall and the Artists of the Russian Jewish Theater,” for IU’s Mini University.

Dina Spechler (2004) was religious education director and cantorial soloist, Temple Beth El, Tacoma, Washington this past year. She enters HUC-JIR cantorial school this fall.

Jennifer Gubitz (2005) is a third year rabbinic student at HUC-JIR in New York. She was student rabbi in Steubenville, Ohio last year, and this year she is a community organizer/rabbinic intern at a synagogue in Mahwah, New Jersey.

Jen Kraus Rosen (2005) is Chief Operating Officer for the Moishe House(s).

Megan Roberts (2006), Education Fellow at the Institute for Southern Jewish Life, is now a graduate student in the Vanderbilt University Human Resources program.

Joanna Blotner (2007) is the Religion and Faith Coordinator at the Human Rights Campaign in D.C.

Ben Ellerin (2007) was Program Director at the IU Hillel in 2010 and began cantorial school at HUC-JIR this fall.

Julia Franks (2007) completed a master’s degree in Diplomacy and Conflict Studies from the Interdisciplinary Center in Herzliya and is a grant writer for Facing History and Ourselves in Boston.

Jake Ginsburg (2007) is a student at Temple University Law School.

Sarah Kaplan (2007) is marrying Robert Ferrin in October 2010. They live in Charlotte where Sarah is Director of Community Relations and Israel Affairs for the Jewish Federation of Greater Charlotte.

Rachel Schonwald (2007) is Registration Manager for BBYO Passport to the World trips.

Rachel Kaplan (2008), a rabbinical student at HUC-JIR, is engaged to Albert Marks.

Inna Kolesnikova is Young Leadership Director and Donor Relations Manager for the Indianapolis Jewish Federation.

Heather Kornick (2009) is Junior Youth Group Advisor, Temple Chai, Long Grove, IL. She is in her third year of battling stage IV adrenal cortisol cancer, and continuing to be an inspiration as she goes through radiation and chemotherapy.

Nina Loftspring (2009) is a Jewish education student at HUC-JIR spending her first year in Jerusalem.

Andrew Schwimmer (2009) is a graduate student in Near Eastern Studies at NYU.
Two remarkable faculty members, Susan Gubar, Ruth Halls Professor and Distinguished Professor of English, and Bronislava Volková, Professor of Slavic Languages and Literatures and Director of the Czech Program, both adjunct members of the JSP faculty, retired last year.

Professor Volková first came to IU in 1978 and soon assumed a newly-created position directing the Czech Program. Her scholarly work includes a revolutionary semiotic study on emotive language Emotive Signs in Language and Semantic Functioning in Derived Nouns in Russian and the literary semiotic work A Feminist’s Semiotic Odyssey through Czech Literature. Recognized as a leading exile poet, in May 2009, she received a prestigious award from the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences for outstanding contribution to Czech scholarship and culture. Her impressive body of artistic works has appeared in important journals, anthologies, and collections, as well as on CDs and DVDs, culminating in the recently published (with her former student Clarice Cloutier) Up the Devil’s Back: A Bilingual Anthology of 20th Century Czech Poetry (2008). Among the courses she taught in JS were “Czech and Jewish Culture in Bohemia” and “Jewish Characters in Russian Literature.”

Professor Gubar’s Poetry After Auschwitz: Remembering What One Never Knew, was published by IU in 2003. In 2006, Rooms of Our Own won an Honorable Mention award from the Gustavus Myers Center for the Study of Bigotry and Human Rights and in 2007, with Sandra M. Gilbert, she published the Norton Reader of Feminist Literary Theory and Criticism. Her cultural biography of Judas, the twelfth apostle, was published by W. W. Norton in 2009. Judas was listed in Magill’s Literary Annual as one of the best books of 2009. Along with Sandra M. Gilbert, Professor Gubar published The Madwoman in the Attic: The Woman Writer and the 19th-Century Literary Imagination in 1979, a runner-up for both The Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Critics Circle Award. Six years later, in 1985, the collaborators received a Ms. Woman of the Year award for their compilation of the Norton Anthology of Literature of Women, a work that appeared in a revised second edition in 1996 and a third addition in 2007. Gilbert and Gubar also followed up The Madwoman with a critical trilogy entitled No Man’s Land: The Place of the Woman Writer in the Twentieth Century: The War of the Words (1988), Sexchanges (1989), and Letters from the Front (1994). Gilbert and Gubar’s most recent jointly-authored enterprises are a collection of poetry for and about mothers, MotherSongs (Norton, 1995), and a satire on the current state of literacy and cultural literacy, Masterpiece Theatre: An Academic Melodrama (Rutgers, 1995).
Our Faculty

Judah Cohen was promoted to Associate Professor with tenure. He welcomed the birth of his son Gabriel in May 2009, and the publication of his book, The Making of a Reform Jewish Cantor: Musical Authority, Cultural Investment (IU Press) in November 2009. In between, his essay “Music Institutions and the Transmission of Tradition” was published in the journal Ethnomusicology. In February 2010, he became the founding editor of Musica Judaica Online Reviews (http://mjoreviews.org), an open-access site presenting commissioned reviews of the latest Jewish music scholarship. He gave papers at the Fifteenth World Congress of JS in Jerusalem and at the annual meeting of the Society for Ethnomusicology in Mexico City, where he organized a panel on Jewish music in Latin America and the Caribbean. He delivered an invited paper at the conference “The Jewish Diaspora of the Caribbean” in Kingston, Jamaica, and he organized the Jewish Music Forum’s second annual midwest section at Northwestern University in April 2010. At Spertus College in Chicago, he taught an intensive three-day course “Aesthetics of Jewish Civilization” in January 2010. Cohen continues his work on reconceiving the history of Jewish musical practices in the U.S., and exploring discourses of Holocaust memory within American musical theater.

Now in the seventh year of his retirement, Paul Eisenberg served as president of Congregation Beth Shalom. This spring, he was elected to a second one-year term. At IU, he continues to serve as a member of the Racial Incidents Team and the Religious Bias Incidents Team, and he is also teaching again half-time. He is a member of an interdenominational group that is seeking to insure that incidents of hate crimes (if and when they occur) will be regularly reported by police in Monroe County and surrounding counties.

Michelle Facos joined the JSP as an adjunct faculty member. This year, she is in residence at Greifswald University, Germany. In June, she was invited by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation to chair a conference, “Interdisciplinary Methodologies: Implications and Reception,” in Trogir, Croatia. She plans to teach “Introduction to Jewish Art” in fall 2011.

Halina Goldberg, in commemoration of the 200th birthday celebration of Fryderyk Chopin, prepared the score of the composer’s Concerto in E Minor, Op. 11 and Concerto in F Minor, Op. 21 for a performance by IU pianist Edward Auer and the renowned Shanghai String Quartet. The concerts were recorded for release on the Culture/Domain label.

Stephen Katz was promoted to Full Professor and received the Trustee Teaching Award, an award recognizing his longstanding commitment to teaching at IU, his generosity toward his students, and his success in instilling his own love of the Hebrew language and its literature in his students. His book Red, Black, and Jew: New Frontiers in Hebrew Literature, a study on the representation of Native and African Americans in Modern Hebrew literature, was published by University of Texas Press. Professor Katz’s article, “First Cry: Moshe Ben-Meir’s Early Holocaust Poetry of the Un-Passover,” appeared in Hebrew Studies. His translation of “Quinces,” a short story by Avshalom Kavel, is forthcoming in Zeek magazine. He participated in a symposium at Columbia University, “Jews, Native Americans, and the Western World Order,” and presented “A One-Sided Dialogue: E. E. Lissitzky’s Indian Poems.” He gave a paper, in Hebrew, “Americanism in Hebrew Literature in the New World” at the annual international conference on Hebrew Language and Literature of the National Association of Professors of Hebrew, at Stern College, NY. Last year, he served as NELC’s Director of Undergraduate Studies.

Dov-Ber Kerler organized short Yiddish ethnographic expeditions to Latvia in August 2009 and to Ukraine in June-July 2010. The new volume (29) of Yerusholaymer Almanakh will be published later this year. During the past year, he gave select poetry readings and presented a talk entitled “Reared in Yiddish, Matured Elsewhere: A Contemporary Yiddish Poet’s Account” (in Yiddish) at the Jewish Book Month at the Montreal Jewish Public Library; presented a talk and some poetry readings at the Tel Aviv Yiddish Poetry Festival (organized by the Israeli Association of Yiddish writers) in a session dedicated to “Fathers and Sons” in Yiddish and Hebrew, and; he taught at the Vilnius Yiddish Institute in July-August, 2010. At IU, he presented a talk with Pearl Gluck on “Preserving and Digitally Disseminating Living Yiddish Memory,” at the Institute of Digital Arts and Humanities; gave a talk, “Revisiting a Well-Known Statement on Yiddish as ‘A Slavic Culture with a German-based Language Living in a Hebrew Library,’” for the SWSEEL Program; and throughout the year, directed weekly readings and discussions in Yiddish folklore, ethnography, and literature for advanced and graduate students.

“The faculty is amazing and teaches very interesting courses and care about their students. They value the education that they are giving to students.”

Brad Ashba, 2010 JS certificate graduation; currently pursuing master’s in Jewish Studies and certificate in Jewish education through Gratz College

Matthias Lehmann finished his first year as the Associate Director of the Borns JSP, overseeing the JS undergraduate and graduate programs. He published “Jewish Nationalism in Ladino” in Jewish Studies Quarterly. He also wrote a short piece, “Memories of 1492,” for Sh’m and is a contributor to the Encyclopedia on Jews in the Islamic World, published in 2010 by E. J. Brill. He submitted a chapter, “Linguistic Transformations: Ladino,” for the forthcoming seventh volume of the Cambridge History of Judaism, as well as another chapter on “The Balkans and Southeastern Europe” for the forthcoming eighth volume of the Cambridge History. Professor Lehmann presented papers at the Association for JS annual conference in Los Angeles; an international conference on Muslim-Jewish relations at the University of California Berkeley; and as a guest of the JSP at Vanderbilt University. He spoke on the history of the Sephardic Diaspora at a symposium organized by the American Sephardi Federation in New York. Matthias Lehmann will spend fall 2010 and fall 2011 as a recipient of a Humboldt Foundation Fellowship at the University of Munich, Germany, to complete work on his book manuscript, “Networks of Beneficence: Rabbinic Emissaries from Palestine and the Making of a Modern Jewish Diaspora.” Last year, Professor Lehmann taught lecture courses on ancient and modern Jewish history as well as a seminar on the Sephardic Diaspora.

Michael Morgan presented a paper and participated in a joint session on his book Discovering Levinas and Diane Perpich’s book The Ethics of Emmanuel Levinas at the annual meeting of the North American Levinas Society in Toronto. He organized a three-part workshop on the “Idea of Messianism in Judaism” for the Tikvah Project at Princeton University, and participated in the first two meetings of the workshop. His paper “Mercy, Repentance, and Forgiveness in Ancient Judaism” will appear in Ancient Forgiveness (Cambridge University Press), edited by Charles Griswold and David Konstan. He was the Horace L. Goldsmith Visiting Professor of JS and Religious Studies at Northwestern University. He gave one of three featured lectures at the spring quarter 2010, he was a visiting professor of JS and Religious Studies at Northwestern University. He gave one of three featured lectures at the West Lafayette Holocaust Conference, entitled “Complicity and the Limits of Responsibility.” His essay “Providence, Prophecy and the Politics of Redemption” will appear in The Cambridge History of Jewish Philosophy: The Modern Era (Cambridge University Press), edited by David Novak, Martin Kavka, and Zachary Braiterman. Together with Paul Franks, he is writing a book for Cambridge University Press, An Introduction to Modern Jewish Philosophy, and he is completing The Cambridge Introduction to Emmanuel Levinas. This semester, Morgan is the Shoshana Shier Distinguished Visiting Professor for the Centre for JS and the Philosophy Department at the University of Toronto.

Together with Jürgen Matthäus, Mark Roseman published Documenting Life and Destruction, Jewish Responses to Persecution, 1933-1946. Volume I. (1933-1938), the first in a five volume series published under the auspices of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum with Alta Mira Press. The launch of the book was filmed for C-SPAN Book TV. He is spending
Jeffrey Veidlinger completed his first year as Director of the JSP. His book, Jewish Public Culture in the Late Russian Empire (IU Press, 2009) won the Abe and Fay Bergel Award in Scholarship at the 2010 Helen and Stan Vine Canadian Jewish Book Awards. The exhibit catalog Chagall and the Artists of the Russian Jewish Theater, to which he contributed, was a finalist for a 2009 National Jewish Book Award. Professor Veidlinger participated in the National Convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies; the Annual Conference of the Association for JS; the “Kaleidoscopic Knowledge: On Jewish and Other Encyclopedias in Modernity” workshop at the Simon Dubnow Institute in Leipzig; the “Ethnography, Culture and Oral History of Yiddish in Contemporary Eastern Europe” symposium at the University of Toronto; the “Uses of Performance in Russian Culture” symposium at Amherst College; the “Everyday Life in Russia” conference at IU; and, the “Jewish Migrations” workshop at the Leonid Nevzlin Center at HUJ. He published the review essay “From Ashkenaz to Zionism: Putting Eastern European Jewish Life in (Alphabetical) Order” in AJS Review, and joined the Board of Directors of the Association for JS. He is currently working on a documentary film and a book entitled In the Shadow of the Shtetl: Jewish Memory in Eastern Europe, both of which will be based on materials held at the Archives of Historical and Ethnographic Yiddish Memories.

Dror Wahrman was selected as the Distinguished Faculty Research Lecturer for 2009-2010 by IU Provost Karen Hanson and the Office of the Vice Provost for Research.

Ayelet Weiss, Director of the Hebrew Program, was promoted to Senior Lecturer. She offered second and third year Modern Hebrew courses, as well as individual Hebrew reading sessions, last year. Her research interests in computational linguistics led her to work alongside colleagues from the JSP’s Hebrew Program and the Department of Linguistics at IU towards computerizing certain aspects of the Hebrew Program. Last year, this work focused on creating various Hebrew databases for the program. In spring 2010, Ms. Weiss was invited to participate in the KIP Israel course at the Kelley School of Business, giving two presentations on Modern Hebrew and on Israeli folk dancing.
2010-2011 Borns JSP Faculty

James S. Ackerman
Profesor (Emeritus), Religious Studies

Michael Alpert
Visiting Lecturer and Dorot and Gerald Paul Artist-in-Residence

Tamar Arieli
Scherzman Visiting Professor
Conflict Management and Negotiation; Israel Studies

Joëlle Bahloul
Professor, Anthropology
Social and Cultural Anthropology of Judaism and the Jews

Jack Bielasiak
Professor, Political Science
Politics of the Holocaust

Judah M. Cohen
Lou and Sybil Mervis Chair in the Study of Jewish Culture;
Associate Professor, Jewish Studies and Folklore and Ethnomusicology
Jewish Music, Art, and Culture

Paul D. Eisenberg
Professor (Emeritus), Philosophy

Stephen Katz
Professor, Jewish Studies and Near Eastern Languages and Cultures
Hebrew; Israeli Culture; Modern Hebrew Literature

Dov-Ber Kerler
Dr. Alice Field Cohn Chair in Yiddish Studies; Professor, Jewish Studies and Germanic Studies
Yiddish Studies

Matthias Lehmann, Associate Director, JSP
Associate Professor, Jewish Studies and History
Jesus in Islamic Lands and Medieval Spain; Sephardic Literature; Ottoman-Jewish History; 19th Century German Jewry

Nancy Levene
Associate Professor, Religious Studies
Modern Jewish and European Religious Thought

Shaul Magid
Jay and Jeanie Schottenstein Chair in Jewish Studies; Professor, Jewish Studies and Religious Studies
Modern Jewish Religious Experience; Hasidism

Michal Maoz-Levy
Lecturer
Modern Hebrew

Herbert J. Marks
Associate Professor, Comparative Literature
Biblical and Literary Studies

Michael L. Morgan
Professor (Emeritus), Jewish Studies and Philosophy
Jewish Philosophy

Rachel Naor
Lecturer
Modern Hebrew

Mark Rosenman
Pat M. Glazer Chair in Jewish Studies; Professor, Jewish Studies and History
History of the Holocaust; History of Antisemitism; German-Jewish History

Alvin H. Rosenfeld
Irving M. Glazer Professor of Jewish Studies; Professor, Jewish Studies and English; Director, Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism
Literature of the Holocaust; American Jewish Literature

Dina R. Spechler
Associate Professor, Political Science
Comparative Foreign Policy; Arab-Israeli Relations

Asya Vaisman
Visiting Scholar and Project Director
Yiddish Studies

Jeffrey Veidlinger, Director, JSP
Alvin H. Rosenfeld Chair in Jewish Studies; Professor, Jewish Studies and History
Modern Jewish History; East European Jewish History; Russian History

Bronislava Volková
Professor (Emerita), Slavic Languages and Literatures
Czech/Jewish Literature; Czech Linguistics and Semiotics

Dror Wahrman
Ruth N. Halls Professor, History
History of Ottoman Palestine and Israel; Cultural History

Ayelet Weiss
Director of Hebrew Program; Senior Lecturer
Modern Hebrew

Carolyn Lipson-Walker
Assistant Director; Academic Advisor; Newsletter Editor

Janice Hurtuk
Program Administrator and Fiscal Officer

Melissa Deckard
Events Coordinator

Meghan Clark
Department Secretary

Noa Wahrman
Jewish Studies Librarian

Michelle Facos
Professor, History of Art
Jewish Art; Jews in Scandinavia before 1915

Halina Goldberg
Associate Professor, Jacobs School of Music, Musicology
19th Century Jewish-Polish Musicians

Susan Gabar
Distinguished Professor (Emerita), English
Holocaust Literature

J. Albert Harrill
Professor, Religious Studies
New Testament and Early Judaism

Sarah Imhoff
Visiting Scholar
American Judaism; Gender and Judaism

Jeffrey Isaac
Rudy Professor, Political Science
Political Theory

Artwork on page 2 from Prato Haggadah, Spain, ca. 1300, ms. 9478, folio 6r-7v. Courtesy of the Library of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

Artwork on page 11 from Ketubbah (Marriage contract), Isfahan, Iran, 1839. Courtesy of the Library of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

Artwork on page 14 from synagogue wall in Ukraine, IU AHEYM project.

Artwork on page 22 from Ketubbah, Split, Croatia, 1825. 8° 901/143. From the National Library of Israel collection, World Repository of Ketubbot, National Library of Israel. www.jnul.huji.ac.il

Artwork on page 27 from Ketubbah, Jerusalem, Eretz Yisrael, 1898, 8° 901/562. From the National Library of Israel.

Back cover image from synagogue wall in Ukraine, IU AHEYM project.

Photographs—Jane Reeves
Printing—Spectrum Press
Please help us keep our mailing list current by notifying us of any changes in your name or address. If you do not wish to receive future mailings from the Borns JSP at IU, simply return this page with a note. Thank you.

(812) 855-0453
(812) 855-4314 FAX
e-mail: iujsp@indiana.edu
www.indiana.edu/~jsp/

Join the JSP Friends

“What is the good way a person should follow? Rabbi Joshua said, ‘Being a good friend.’”—Pirke Avot 2:9

We invite you to become a member of the Friends of our program:

- Benefactor: $1,000 and above/year
- Patron: $500-$999/year
- Patron Associate (35 years old & under; JS alumni): $180-$499/year
- Associate (35 years old & under; JS alumni): $36 and above/year

Make checks payable to IJUJewish Studies Program and mail to: Borns Jewish Studies Program, Indiana University, Goodbody Hall 326, 1011 E. 3rd St., Bloomington, IN 47405-7005 or go to our website (http://www.indiana.edu/~jsp/) and click on the Give Now button.

Our Friends are crucial to maintaining IU as a major center of Jewish learning. Funds raised annually provide scholarships for outstanding students, support scholarly conferences and publications, bring distinguished visitors to IU, and help the Borns JSP expand in other ways. To express our appreciation, the Borns JSP offers Friends a 20% discount on all IU Press books, and in select cases, guaranteed seating or discounted or complimentary tickets for events. Thank you so very much for your support!

See page 13 for information about 2011-2012 graduate fellowships (Deadline January 17, 2011)

See page 16 for information about applying for 2011-2012 incoming freshmen scholarships (Priority deadline: October 29, 2010; Final deadline: January 25, 2011)