First Biannual Symposium on Teaching Indigenous Languages of Latin America (STILLA-2008)

Conference Sponsors:
Minority Languages and Cultures of Latin America Program (MLCP) &
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies (CLACS)

Convenors
Serafin M. Coronel-Molina, School of Education;
John H. McDowell, Folklore and Ethnomusicology;
Jeff Gould, CLACS

Keynote Speakers
Nora C. England
Dallas TACA Professor, Department of Linguistics, University of Texas at Austin
Director, Center for Indigenous Languages of Latin America (CILLA)

Jean-Jacques Decoster
Director, Centro Tinku
President, Asociación Kuraka
Director, Instituto Latinoamericano de Investigación (ILAI)
Academic Director, Instituto de Investigación de la Lengua Quechua, Cusco, Peru.

Partner Institutions
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies (CLACS), Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, University of Illinois at Urbana, Champaign
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan
Center for Latin American Studies, University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois
Kellogg Institute for International Studies, University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Indiana
Latin American, Caribbean, and Iberian Studies Center, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin
Center for Latin American Studies, The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio

http://www.iub.edu/~mlcp/stilla/

August 14–16, 2008
INDIANA UNIVERSITY, BLOOMINGTON