Our ongoing analysis of Indiana nonprofit employment is a joint effort by the Center on Philanthropy, the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, and the Indiana Business Research Center at Indiana University to document the significant impact of nonprofits on Indiana’s economy by providing detailed information on the size, composition, and distribution of paid employment in the private nonprofit sector in Indiana.

Key Facts about Nonprofits in Indiana

- Nonprofits employ 1 in 11 workers in Indiana (nearly 250,000 employees).
- Nonprofits include charities, private and public foundations and other types of organizations such as civic leagues, chambers of commerce and veterans’ organizations.
- The vast majority of nonprofit organizations are public charities with 501(c)(3) designation from the IRS. Public charities provide social assistance, health care, education, arts and recreation in local communities.
- Nonprofit social assistance organizations provide child care, job training and placement, individual and family services, emergency relief, and more. Social assistance was the second fastest growing nonprofit industry in Indiana, second to healthcare.

County Industry Data

The nonprofit sector has a significant role in the economic well-being of Kosciusko County. However, as shown in Figures 2-4, nonprofits here accounted for smaller percentages of employment, payroll and establishments than in the state as a whole.

- The percentage of total workers employed by nonprofits in Kosciusko County was slightly less than that of the state as a whole in 2009 (Figure 2).
- In the education, social assistance, and arts, entertainment, and recreation (AER) industries, nonprofits accounted for a higher share of employees than was the case for these industries at the state level (Figure 2).

- Nonprofit payroll in Kosciusko County constituted about half the share of nonprofit payroll produced in Indiana overall in 2009 (Figure 3).
- Nonprofit establishments provided almost 80 percent of the social assistance industry’s payroll and nearly 40 percent of AER payroll (Figure 3).

- Kosciusko County had nearly the same share of establishments operated by nonprofits in 2009 (Figure 4) as did Indiana overall.
- However, Kosciusko County had a larger share of nonprofit establishments in the education, health, and AER industries than did the state overall.

Note on Methodology

The report draws data from the national Quarterly Census Employment and Wages (QCEW) filings. However, because of the unique position of nonprofits under federal law, many nonprofits are not required to complete these filings. For example, religious congregations as well as 501(c)(3) organizations employing fewer than four workers are exempt from QCEW filings. Because of these exclusions we are confident that our analysis underestimates nonprofit employment in Indiana. For a full explanation of methodology, please visit our website.
