

London

UK Today Summer 2009 IU Supplement

---

The London Get Set predeparture guide prepared by IES provides important information about the program, and you should read it with care. The following supplemental information pertains to Indiana University students only.

IES AND IU

The Institute for the International Education of Students (IES) is a nonprofit organization that administers more than 80 study abroad programs in 31 cities in Asia, Australia, Europe and South America. More than 175 U.S. colleges and universities, including Indiana University, have formal agreements with IES, and their representatives work with the Institute to set academic policy and approve curricula. Through its office in Chicago, IES administers the London UK Today Program.

The IU Office of Overseas Study has made special arrangements with IES to recruit and orient IU students for this summer program. As a result, IU students make up at least half the enrollment on the London program. You will, however, have many classmates and flatmates who come individually from other U.S. universities.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS

You pay all program fees directly to Indiana University. Any questions regarding finances for the program, including financial aid, should be addressed to the Office of Overseas Study at Indiana University. Students from other U.S. universities have different arrangements with IES regarding fees and housing deposits.

COURSES

You will earn 6 IU credits for 2 courses from the following list:

IES Title	IU Equivalent	COLL
Architecture of London: 1600 - Present Day	FINA-A 396	SH
Bloomsbury Era	ENG-L 369	AH
British Youth Culture from 1950 to the Present	SOC-OS 100* CMCL-C 334	SH
Censored! What the British Could Not See	CMCL-C 445	SH
Drawing in the National Gallery (Workshop)	FINA-OS 100*	AH
Government &amp; Politics in Britain	POLS-Y 407 SPEA-V 456	SH
International Marketing Management: Europe	BUS-OS 100† SPEA-V 450
Living and Dying in 17th &amp; 18th Century London	HIST-B 300	SH
London &amp; World War I	HIST-B 300	SH
London Through the Eyes of Charles Dickens	ENG-OS 100* HIST-OS 100*
Media &amp; UK Politics	POLS-Y 407 CMCL-C 204 TEL-OS 300* JOUR-OS 300*	SH
Medieval London	HIST-B 300	SH
Modern British Novel	ENG-L 346	AH
Shakespeare the Dramatist	ENG-L 313	AH
Theater in London: An introduction	THTR-OS 100	AH

CS-B = Culture Studies credit for COLL (List B)

AH = Arts & Humanities credit

SH = Social & Historical credit

*DEPT-OS 100 (-OS 300) is the default designation to identify courses recorded as 100-level (300-level) undistributed credit that can count in total hours toward graduation and may be able to satisfy major, minor, or distributional requirements with the approval of the participant's school.

†Business students will only be awarded elective Business credit for this course. No exceptions are possible.

Department-specific notes:

Fine Arts majors: Check with your advisor to see how the Fine Arts courses will count toward the degree. Due to a special arrangement with COLL, Architecture of London may be used to satisfy one SH course and CS.

Business students: If you are pursuing a nonspecialization general-education option you may use the courses listed for COLL as SH toward fulfillment of your Social and Historical Studies hours. AH courses may be used toward the required Arts and Humanities hours. Questions regarding applicability to your requirements should be addressed to Overseas Study.

Enrollment On-site

Although you will be asked to indicate course preferences to IES after acceptance, final enrollment will not be confirmed until you arrive in London. IES is committed to placing every student in his/her first choice courses, but you should remain flexible about your alternative choice. If you have any questions about how London courses fit into your degree program, contact Overseas Study.

Courses cover a great deal of material rapidly. Do not let the excitement of London distract you from your studies. Prepare your papers and reports far enough in advance to avoid the last-minute crunch at the IES Center computers, which are available limited hours.