New Barnes and Noble Contract

The Purchasing Department is excited to announce that Barnes & Noble.com is now available through the Shop Contracts link in EPIC on the Bloomington, Kokomo, Southeast, and East campuses (IUPUI, IUSB, and IUNW will be coming soon!). The addition of the popular bookseller will allow IU departments to purchase books and textbooks now through EPIC by shopping the BN.com website as customized for IU. This exciting agreement, complete with 5% off the online price of every item, every day and free shipping on all orders, is the first of its kind between Barnes & Noble.com and a higher educational institution.

Are you using your P-card to purchase new books with other online book vendors, such as Amazon.com? When you do this, you are not receiving any additional discount for being affiliated with IU, even though IU spent approximately half a million dollars on P-card book purchases last year alone. When you buy through EPIC B2B vendors, you are helping IU to leverage your dollars with those spent by the rest of the institution to bring you greater discounts and dedicated customer service. In short, shopping through the EPIC contracts benefits the entire University!

If you have faculty members that you would like to introduce to this resource, please let us know. You do not need a Safeword card to shop contracts in EPIC or create requisitions, and we will be happy to assist them in learning to use the system (just think, no receipts to chase...).

Additionally, Barnes & Noble.com is offering the same discounts to you for personal purchases as they give IU for institutional purchases. THIS INCLUDES FREE SHIPPING ON ALL ORDERS! For your personal purchases, simply go to www.bn.com/iu and start shopping!

See the box below for the specific discounts you receive by shopping with Barnes & Noble.com through EPIC. If you have any questions or need EPIC training on the Bloomington campus, please contact Megan Kerton at mechill@indiana.edu or Theresa Dawson at thdawson@indiana.edu. On the Southeast, East, or Kokomo campuses, contact your campus Purchasing office. ■

Barnes and Noble Advantages:

- An additional 5% savings off the online price.
- Free standard shipping on all orders
- IU faculty and staff may obtain the IU discount for personal purchases at www.bn.com/iu.
