Please see below a brief description of the objectives of each of our current fellowships. More detailed information about each program is available on our website: www.wilsoncenter.org/kennan

The new George F. Kennan Fellowships aim to increase collaboration among researchers from Russia, Ukraine, and the U.S., and bridge the worlds of academia and public affairs. These are three-month residential fellowships funded by Carnegie Corporation of New York. U.S., Russian, and Ukrainian citizens are eligible to apply, either as individuals or as a team.

Deadlines: March 1 and September 1, 2016

The Galina Starovoitova Fellowships on Human Rights and Conflict Resolution seek citizens of the Russian Federation who advance human rights and conflict resolution to spend three to six months in Washington, D.C., forging dialogues with U.S. policymakers and human rights advocates, while in residence at the Kennan Institute.

Deadline: April 15, 2016

The Fulbright-Kennan Institute Research Scholarships are intended for scholars from Russia and Ukraine whose research informs discussion of key public policy issues and enhances development of scholarship in Eurasia. Scholars from the humanities and social sciences have an opportunity to conduct research for six months in D.C. while in residence at the Kennan Institute.

Deadline for Ukrainians: October 15, 2016
Deadline for Russians TBA on www.fulbright.ru

The Title VIII Research Scholarships are available to academic participants in the early stages of their career (before tenure) or scholars whose careers have been interrupted or delayed. Eligibility is limited to the postdoctoral level for academic participants, although doctoral candidates in the process of completing a dissertation may apply (the dissertation must be successfully defended before taking residence at the Kennan Institute). Applicants must be U.S. citizens. Research proposals examining the countries of Eurasia are eligible.

Deadline: January 15, 2016

Title VIII-Supported Summer Research Fellowships are aimed at scholars with an MA or higher in the social sciences or humanities and who focus on the countries of Eurasia who demonstrate a particular need to utilize the library, archival, and other specialized resources of the Washington, D.C. area for two months. The summer grants must be used between May-September 2016.

Deadline: January 15, 2016

Title VIII-Supported Short-Term Grants allow U.S. citizens whose policy-relevant research in the social sciences or humanities focused on the countries of Eurasia, to spend up to one month using the library, archival, and other specialized resources of the Washington, D.C. area, while in residence at the Kennan Institute.

Deadline: Feb 15, 2016
