We are proud to announce the CALL FOR PAPERS for issue 28.2 of UCL’s online, peer-reviewed journal Slovo!

The deadline for submissions is April 1, 2016.

We consider contributions in the fields of anthropology, archeology, cultural studies, economics, film studies, history, literary studies, philosophy, political science and sociology. To be considered, the articles must focus on Central/Eastern Europe, South-Eastern Europe or the former Soviet Union/Central Asia.

Contributions, including research articles, book and film reviews, and review articles are welcome from all research students and academics. Submissions to the Board of Editors may be sent through our online submission form or by email to slovo@ssees.ucl.ac.uk. All research articles must include a 100-200 word abstract and adhere to the MHRA Style Guide in advance of submission.

All manuscripts are refereed and undergo a review process. Contributions must not be under consideration by other publications at the time of submission. The editors reserve the right to make any changes thought to be necessary or appropriate to typescripts accepted for publication.

The maximum length for consideration of an article is 6,000 – 8,000 words (including footnotes), and 700 words for a review. All submissions should be sent to us in either of OpenOffice, Microsoft Word, RTF, or WordPerfect document formats. Please ensure that the text is single-spaced and in 12-point font, and that all illustrations, figures, and tables are placed within the text at the appropriate points, rather than at the end. For more information on submission requirements, please refer to the checklist on our online submission page.
