Learn how to cater your research from academic lectures, conference presentations, to policy briefings. This workshop will cover how to speak concisely and how to modify your presentation to fit your audience.

Public Speaking and Research Presentation

Wednesday, March 9th, 2016 | 4:00pm-5:00pm | GISB 3067

Learn how to cater your research from academic lectures, conference presentations, to policy briefings. This workshop will cover how to speak concisely and how to modify your presentation to fit your audience.

Area Studies and the Teaching Job:

Strategies for the Application and the Interview

Monday, April 4th, 2016 | 12:00pm-1:30pm | GISB 3067

Learn how to market your area studies expertise towards teaching-focused academic positions at institutions without area studies programs. Topics that will be covered include: how to prepare for a teaching demo outside your specialization, common interview questions to be ready for, balancing teaching and research interests, and an overview of some mistakes to avoid. The presentation will be followed with a question and answer session.