

Ethnomusicology and popular musics, tenure-track appointment beginning August 16, 2009. Productive scholar whose research and teaching reflect critical and artistic engagement with world and popular musics. All disciplinary specializations are welcome. Strong record of research and publication and a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Will teach in Occidental's interdisciplinary Core Program, courses in ethnomusicology, jazz, and popular musics, oversee the development of a world music ensemble program, advise senior projects in the Music Department. Ph.D. or appropriate terminal degree required by Fall 2009. Electronic submission of materials is encouraged. Applicants should submit a letter of interest demonstrating a commitment to academic excellence in a diverse liberal arts environment, a statement of teaching philosophy, areas of teaching interest, plans for research; a CV, 1-2 samples of scholarly work; and 3 letters of recommendation to Norma Navarro, Music Department, at nnavarro@oxy.edu. Materials may also be sent by regular mail to Norma Navarro, Music Department, Occidental College, 1600 Campus Rd., Los Angeles, CA 90041. All materials are due by November 30, 2008.

Occidental College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.