The Department of Spanish and Portuguese cordially invites you to the following lectures:

"Who is the Virgin of Guadalupe?: Blurring Religious and Gender Narratives in Turn of the Twenty-First Century Mexican Literature."
By Elizabeth A. McDyer
Friday, February 12, in BH 208, from 12:00-1:00 p.m.

"A Novelist of Modern Life: Roberto Arlt from a Benjaminian Perspective"
By Matthew Johnson
Friday, March 4, in BH 305, from 12:00-1:00 p.m.

"The uprooted writing of Roberto Bolaño’s The Savage Detectives"
By Jorge Mario Sánchez Noguera.
Friday, March 25, in BH 208, from 12:00-1:00 p.m.

"Analysis of the culinary text in the Cuban contemporary novel"
By Carmen Echerri
Friday, April 22, in BH 208 from 12:00-1:00 p.m.

If you have any questions, please contact Professor Olimpia E. Rosenthal