The Department of Spanish and Portuguese

invites you to a lecture by

Professor Fernão Pessoa Ramos

Cinema Documentário e Cultura Brasileira: Breve Panorama Histórico

Thursday, April 17, 2014
5:00 p.m.
Woodburn Hall 007

Fernão Ramos is a Full Professor in the Department of Cinema Studies/Arts Institute at the Universidade de Campinas (UNICAMP) in Brazil. He was the founder and first president (1997-2001) of the Sociedade Brasileira de Estudos de Cinema (SOCINE), which is the major academic association dedicated to film in Brazil. His books and articles focus on various aspects of Brazilian cinema, especially documentary and marginal cinema. He is author of a seminal history of Brazilian cinema and co-editor of the Enciclopédia do cinema brasileiro, which is the most important and complete reference work on the subject. He is currently a professor in residence on the Bloomington campus, where he is researching and writing a new book on documentary cinema.