Since 1950, the Summer Language Workshop has enabled thousands of students and professionals to intensively study languages critical to academic research, economic development, human rights, diplomacy, national security, scientific advancement, and other global issues.
Portuguese at the 2016 IU Summer Language Workshop (June 6-July 29, 2016)

In Summer 2016, the Summer Language Workshop will offer a Portuguese language course for the first time. The Workshop has been offering intensive language training at the Bloomington campus of Indiana University since 1950. Online applications for the 2016 program are now being accepted (http://indiana.edu/~swseel/apply/start).

All participants of IU Summer Language Workshop pay in-state tuition rates.

About the Portuguese course:

- The Portuguese proficiency-based curriculum features 20 contact hours per week and will cover three academic semesters of instruction:
  - First four weeks section: HISP-P135/HISP-P491; second four weeks section: HISP-P200.
- Students will have the opportunity to attend a wide-range of co-curricular activities, including language tables, cooking classes, and film screenings.

Indiana University undergraduate students:

- Portuguese majors/minors may request permission to enroll in P311 in Fall 2016, contingent upon performance in Summer Language Workshop.
- Spanish majors may count P135 as a 300/400-level elective.

Indiana University graduate students:

- May request permission to enroll only for the first four weeks to fulfill language proficiency requirements.
- Interested students should contact the course instructor prior to enrollment and payment of tuition and fees.

Graduate students in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese are encouraged to complete P135 during the summer and enroll in a graduate course (500-level or higher) in Fall 2016 to complete their Portuguese language proficiency (more details at http://www.indiana.edu/~spanport/graduate/proficiency.shtml#inside).

Graduate students outside the department of Spanish and Portuguese are encouraged to complete P419 during the summer and enroll in P492 in Spring 2016 to complete their Portuguese language proficiency (more details regarding graduate language proficiency at http://www.indiana.edu/~spanport/graduate/proficiency.shtml#outside).
