The Aster is a fall-blooming herb with daisy-like flowers. Also called the September flower, it is said to symbolize love, faith, wisdom and color, which blooms in pink, red, white, lilac and mauve. This flower has also been known as Michaelma's Daisy, starwort and frost flowers and was at one time thought to be as a love charm. The name 'Michaelmas Daisy' makes reference to the blooming of the flower, which occurs at the same time as the feast of St. Michael. It is because of this that Michaelmas became known as the date of beginnings. The Aster was used in ancient times for medicinal purposes.

According to Middle-Age folklore, the sapphire will protect your loved ones from envy and harm and was worn by priests as protection from impure thoughts and temptations, while commoners thought the gem attracted heavenly blessings. Medieval kings of Europe valued these stones for rings and brooches. Warriors presented their young wives with sapphire necklaces so they would remain faithful. It was believed that the stone’s color would darken if worn by an adulterer or adulteress, or by an unworthy person. Sapphires were once believed to be protection against snakes! It was said that if poisonous reptiles and spiders were placed in a jar containing the stone, the creatures would immediately die. The French of the 13th century believed that sapphires transformed stupidity to wisdom, and irritability to good temper!

Chad Rabinovitz is the only artist in the United States simultaneously serving as the Producing Artistic Director of two theaters devoted to new and contemporary works: Adirondack Theatre Festival (Glens Falls, NY) & Bloomington Playwrights Project (Bloomington, IN). Chad has directed more than 100 productions across the country, focusing primarily on new and contemporary plays. The Bloomington Playwrights Project (BPP) is the only professional theatre in the entire state of Indiana dedicated solely to new plays. In operation for 35 years, we serve both the Bloomington and national theatre community by working with talented playwrights, actors, and artists to develop high-level productions for our local patrons as well as the many audiences attending subsequent productions of scripts that originated here at the BPP. We are an advocate for playwrights and new plays and believe firmly that they are not only important but absolutely vital to the future of our art form.

You’re Invited to the University Club’s Annual Welcome Reception!

Come meet and mingle with our honored guest, new IMU Director, Hank Walter!

Tuesday, September 8th - 5:30 PM to 7:30 PM — In the Presidents’ Room at the University Club

The University Club is delighted to have the new IMU Director, Hank Walter, as our keynote speaker this year. Hank has deep roots in Bloomington and IU through his family. His late father-in-law, Dick Rubin, was one of the original faculty members at SPEA where he worked for 33 years. His wife, Elizabeth, grew up in Bloomington, and has two degrees from IU. His mother-in-law also received her master’s degree from IU and worked for the IU Foundation before taking a job at the Monroe County Public Library.

“We’ve been to Bloomington twice a year for a number of years now,” Walter said. “I really feel connected to IU through my family.”

Hank has leadership experience at two Big Ten Universities. He spend 12 years as associate director for programs at the University of Illinois’ union and has served as chief operating officer of the University of Wisconsin’s union since 2005. “The IMU is an icon in the college union profession,” he said. “It is one of those special places that other unions have benchmarked themselves against. It’s got a national and international reputation. It’s an honor to be a part of that.” We think this is a special place too! Thanks Hank!

The 24th Head Baseball Coach, Chris Lemonis, is our honored guest speaker at the first “Speaker Series Luncheon” this season. Chris will be looking back at the 2015 season and giving us a sneak peak of what he has in store for 2016.

Chris expressed what this job means to him. “Believe me, it’s kind of a dream job,” Lemonis said. “Just to have the beautiful stadium and the beautiful campus, and how they’ve had success. There’s a lot of good things here.” Coaching at IU not only put Lemonis in charge of one of the best teams in the country the past two seasons but also provides his family a home in a town far different than Louisville. Lemonis said the small town, family feel, of Bloomington suits his family better than the urban layout of Louisville. “I don’t know if there’s a better city in the country than Bloomington.” Obviously Coach Lemonis is really excited to be here! And we’re excited to meet him!

Dr. Sara Stefani
Speaking on “From Russia….Well, it’s Complicated”

Sara Stefani, Associate Professor, Department of Slavic & Eastern European Languages and Cultures

Sara Stefani moved to Moscow shortly after graduation from college in 1993. She lived there for three years, first working for a publishing company and then a British law firm. While there she survived a fire in her apartment building, swam in the Moscow River with dead bodies, and figured out how to use the subway and other systems of mass transportation. Prior to coming to IU in 2009, she taught at Oberlin College, Grinnell College and at Yale University, where she completed a PhD in 2008. Stefani has taught all levels of Russian language, as well as courses in both Russian and English on 19th and 20th century Russian literature, and multi-disciplinary culture courses incorporating study of literature, visual arts, performing arts, music, and film. Her research interests involve cross cultural connections between Russia and England, as well as Russian modernism, the avant-garde, literature of the 1920s, and, most recently, postmodernism. **

Halloween Dinner 5:00 pm in the Faculty Room at the UClub
Dennis James Show 7:30 pm at the IU Auditorium

The world’s greatest cinema organist is coming back to his alma mater to perform the masterpiece that started his illustrious career! Make your Halloween come alive with one of the most unique theatrical events at IU Auditorium as Dennis James provides live accompaniment to the playfully spooky 1925 silent film The Phantom of the Opera. With his virtuosic organ and theremin artistry, James has built his reputation as the most acclaimed film accompanist, using musical instruments and electronic sound effects to enhance the thrill of silent films.

The Phantom of the Opera shadows a tragic love story that will enchant and haunt the heart. The film takes place in a Paris opera house, where a mysterious phantom terrorizes its occupants. His lust for terror turns to a lust for love as he falls for the young Christine Daaé, a chorus girl. Forcing the prima donna Carlotta out of the limelight, he launches the stardom of his new affliction—wreaking havoc in hopes of winning Christine’s affection.

Reserve to have a Halloween Dinner at the Club at then we’ll walk over to the Auditorium together to catch this one-of-a-kind Bloomington tradition on Friday, October 30th.

Be sure to purchase your show tickets at the IU Auditorium FIRST!

YOGA

You need not feel intimidated by yoga! If you are interested in improving balance, breathing, flexibility, and relaxation, this is the group for you. No previous knowledge of yoga is necessary. Everyone works at their own level.

Our group meets throughout the year each Tuesday from 10 — 11 am at St. Thomas Lutheran Church in Heritage Hall which promotes a relaxed and spiritual environment for practicing yoga. St. Thomas Lutheran is located at the intersection of Smith Road and E. 3rd Street. Parking is plentiful.

Wear comfortable clothes to permit easy movement; bring a yoga mat and a stretchy band or belt. Our instructors strive to leave you feeling stretched, relaxed and in a better place than when you came through the door.

You may join us three times before membership in the University Club is required for participation. There is no additional cost beyond your University Club membership, but we do ask that you give a minimum $20 annual donation to St. Thomas Lutheran Church for the use of their lovely facility.

If you have questions, please feel free to contact Marilyn, Svelta, or Wendy.
