Malcolm Abrams is a magazine consultant, writer and editor who fell in love with Bloomington and moved here in 2005. He is the founder, editor and publisher of Bloom Magazine and of Distinctively Bloomington.

For 30 years Malcolm worked in New York City as editorial director and vice-president of Rupert Murdoch’s business magazine company in the 1980s and as an editorial consultant. His clients included the McGraw-Hill Companies, The National Audubon Society and Miller Freeman, Inc. among many others.

Viking Penguin published Malcolm’s first book, Future Stuff, written with researcher Harriet Bernstein. It was also published in several other countries and six other languages. A television pilot based on the book was produced by Aaron Spelling Entertainment. A sequel, More Future Stuff, also was published by Viking Penguin.

Malcolm’s work has appeared in many magazines and newspapers, including Ladies’ Home Journal, Playboy and The Toronto Globe & Mail. His work has been syndicated by both the New York Times and the Los Angeles Times syndicates. Malcolm has been a guest on many television shows, including Good Morning America, Today and Live with Regis & Kathie Lee.

Menu:

- Fall Greens with Cucumber Noodles and Roasted Tomatoes
- Balsamic Dressing on the Side
- Shrimp Creole on White Rice with Peppers and Onions
- Penne Pasta Prima Vera
- Vegetable Medley
- Assorted Mini Desserts Served on Platter on Table

Deadline for reservations and pre-payment Thursday, March 2

Please make checks payable to University Club and mail to IMU #150, 900 E. 7th Street, Bloomington, IN 47405, or Call 812-855-1325 to pay by credit card.

$17 Members $19 Guests

PRINT your name as you would like it to appear on your name tag.

NAME: _______________________________ Shrimp Creole or Penne Pasta

NAME: _______________________________ Shrimp Creole or Penne Pasta