Why Cladistics? Reading Questions

1. What kinds of characters does cladistics use to determine evolutionary relationships?

2. What is a clade?

3. What are primitive characters?

4. What kinds of characters can we use to determine the evolutionary relationships among living organisms? Among fossils?

5. How does a scientist deal with characters that support different cladograms (e.g. suggest different evolutionary relationships among the same group of organisms)?